Visitors . . .

Dignitaries of Church and State

The special convocation at which an honorary degree was conferred upon President Sean O'Kelly of Ireland was indeed a most impressive ceremony. His Eminence, Cardinal Cushing presided while Rev. John F. Murphy, S.J., former professor of Gaelic at Boston College read the welcome in the president's native tongue. The galleries of Roberts Center were filled with lovers of the green. This welcome was transcribed and later broadcast to all corners of Ireland.

Dr. Simeon A. Friedberg of the Carnegie Institute of Technology was a recent guest of Rev. William Guindon, S.J., and the Physics Department under the Visiting Scientist Program of the American Institute of Physics. Dr. Friedberg gave several lectures dealing with peculiar properties of matter at very low temperatures.

Fr. Guindon, at the request of Fr. Rector is concerned also with collecting ideas for the planning of a Student-Faculty Center. This Student Union, when completed will bring under one roof the headquarters for each of the varied activities of the student body. In addition to spacious accommodations.

Alpha Sigma Nu's first Honorary Member

Professor Christopher Dawson, Professor of Roman Catholic Studies at Harvard Divinity School and the first Catholic ever to serve on the faculty of that school became the first honorary member of the Boston College Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Nu fraternity. Professor Dawson shared honors with Fr. Rector at the society's twentieth Anniversary celebration held at Alumni Hall recently. The Class of 1942 monopolized the voting when Dr. Joseph Stanton, Bill Cadigan and Bill Connolly were elected President, Secretary, and Treasurer respectively.

Laetare . . .

They said he'd be great and he was. Rev. Robert I. Gannon, S.J., former president of Fordham proved his right to the title, "Prince of the Jesuit orators," when he thrilled upwards of twelve hundred grads at the annual Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast. Chairman Modestino Vitale, '42 was still taking bows long after the affair had become history for his choice of the Jesuit Demosthenes and principal speaker of the day.

But great as Fr. Gannon was, he was forced to share honors with a number of 'firsts': Roberts Center and McHugh Forum as the combined site for a religious activity; Mass in the gymnasium; a half hour parade of 1200 people marching to Communion; McHugh Forum as a dining hall, and most provocative first of all, ladies participating.

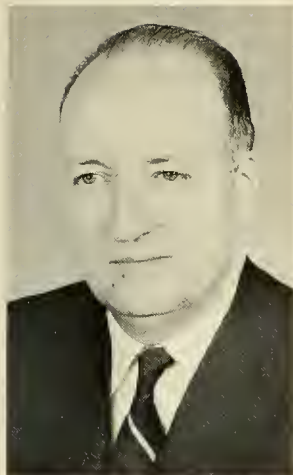

150 members of the Alumnae joined with the men at the altar rail and at the breakfast table.

The toastmaster was Judge "Chick" Artesani, '34, presiding justice of Brighton District Court. Radio Station WORL, through the generosity of Eddie Gollagher, '32, broadcast Fr. Gannon's message as well as Fr. Rector's comments.

Grants . . .

Various Schools of the University are presently conducting programs under Foundation and Federal grants totaling $1,370,000.

Thomas J. Cudmore has assumed his new duties as Director of Development at Boston College. Tom is a graduate of the Class of 1940 and the Boston College School of Social Work in 1943. He has spent the past six years as director of the Community Chest in Albany, N.Y. During his tenure, donations were increased by 78 percent, the largest increase in the 1800 Community Chests in the nation. Prior to his Albany assignment Tom was executive director of the Greater Lawrence Community Chest from 1947 to 1953. Included in the many community, civic and educational activities with which he has been associated is a one year term as director of the Boston College Alumni Association. He is married to the former Miss E. Morie McDonough of Dorchester and the two are spending their spare moments trying to find a new home, back home for themselves and their six children.

... Director

Fr. Rector has announced promotions for five members of the Faculty in three of the 11 schools of the University. Richard G. Gruber was appointed Professor of the B. C. Low School. Joseph Bornstein, '41, Ph.D., a professor of Chemistry in the College of Arts and Sciences; Joseph R. Cantela, '49, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology in the College of Arts and Sciences; Samuel J. Miller, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History in the College of Arts and Sciences and Robert P. O'Hare, '46, Ph.D., Assistant Professor in the School of Education.

... Faculty

In our last issue we pointed with pride to the list of nineteen Alumni Bishops both living and deceased. With additional pride and a shore of chagrin we find that the list numbers twenty. We had failed to include the name of the late Most Rev. Thomas A. Emmett, S.J., Bishop of Jamaica. Bishop Emmett entered Boston College with the Class of '96.

... Honors

Dr. John F. Sullivan, '33, of the Pratt Diagnostic Clinic has been chosen by the Campus Council as the recipient of the first Campus Council Alumni Award. The students chose Dr. Sullivan as an outstanding ambassador of Boston College in the medical field, who has dedicated his life to the academic and non-remunerative side of medicine. Dr. Sullivan has espoused the name of Boston College at every medical school throughout the country in his visits on behalf of the Federal Government.

Louis F. Musco, '34, is the newly-appointed chairman of the Massachusetts State Housing Board. Musco is founder and President of the Boy State Academy in Boston and is a former Boston School Committeeman and M.D.C. Associate commissioner. He is active in many civic and academic organizations.

John L. Roche, '34, was recently appointed Director, Mission to Ceylon. Mr. Roche has spent 10 years in Government Service. He was assigned to the General Council, Mission to Greece, later became Acting Deputy Chief of Missions and finally, Special Advisor to the chief of Missions. During 1951 and 1952, he was the First Coordinator of the U.S. to Spain until his appointment to Ceylon in June 1958.

Two Boston College grads, one a member of the Alumnae, made Navy news recently. Rear Admiral Bortholemew W. Hogan, U.S.N., Class of 1928, was named chief of the Naval Medical Corps. A graduate of the Boston College School of Nursing, Capt. Ruth McHoughton, Nurse Corps, U.S.N. has been appointed Director of the Navy Nurses Corps.

Language Should Be Spoken

English: Take me to your leader.
 French: "Amenez-moi au chef".
 Italian: "Mi porti al capo".
 German: "Zum Führer".
 Spanish: "Lléveme Vd. a su jefe".
 Russian: Приведите

Have you ever been to Paris? If you have, then you must recall with horror the problems you encountered while attempting to master the native tongue. Either all Frenchmen are deaf, you reasoned, "Or my French is worse than I thought,".

This was the universal case of the American who received his language training without the benefit of being abroad. No longer is this necessarily true. Not if he was trained in Boston College's new modern Language Laboratory, that is.

The new laboratory and library, located in building L-313, is under Father Joseph Gauthier's Modern Language Division. Its function: to help teach French, German, Italian, Spanish, Russian, and in the Fall, Chinese. Dr. Benedetto Fabrizi, the new director of the laboratory, says, "This is the greatest innovation in the teaching process since the invention of the printing press."

Equipped by the Magnetic Recording Company of New York, the laboratory consists of a Sound-proof studio with thirty-six individual booths. Each booth is equipped with a separate dual-track tape recorder, microphone and earphones. Three master channels—allowing three different lectures at the same time—are controlled by the instructor from the console, located at one end of the room. Through this master control, the professor can direct group activity or converse with an individual without disturbing the others.

How does this help teach language? The ways are many. For instance, the student plugs into one of the three channels and he hears the instructor's voice saying, "Guten Morgen, mein Herr." He picks up his microphone and repeats the sentence. Later, the instructor can check his pronunciation and the student can compare his own voice with that of the expert. The "expert," too, might well be a native or a group of natives rather than the professor teaching the course. Besides relieving the teacher of the need for endless repetition, the student can practice as much and as often as he likes.

Dr. Benedetto Fabrizi at the controls of the new laboratory—studio of the Modern Language Department.

The new sound-proofed laboratory has thirty-six individual booths equipped with tape recorders, microphones, and head sets.

The basic idea, of course, is to correct the age-old American problem in teaching Language. Language should, first of all, be spoken—not written. That's the way you learned English, isn't it? Besides, it's a lot more fun.

In learning to speak a language, Dr. Fabrizi points out: "there are four advantages to this system: (1) there is immediate learning; (2) the student gets individual attention; (3) the student can go at his own pace; (4) the system removes the psychological block for the student who hesitates to speak in class where others can hear." He also notes that something of the background and customs of the country of the language can be taught. With this laboratory, we now have the time in the classroom to introduce the literature, the poetry—the heritage of the language."

This is the most up-to-date, flexible and attractive language laboratory in New England. As a matter of fact, no school in the United States can boast of a better one.

As for the future, there are plans for combining visual aides with the tapes. Although in the experimental stage, the use of slides and film in conjunction with the audio offers excellent possibilities.

One final thought: with a new generation trained in language by this fantastic device, what will the authors of such books as The Ugly American have to write about?

Dr. Fabrizi demonstrates one of the major advantages of the system: individual assistance.

Thomas J. Powell, Jr., Boston, 1st year; Nancy D. Welch, Marblehead, 1st year; John F. Driscoll, S.J., Dean; Mary A. Mason, Director of Field Work; Sister Paul Thérèse, C.S.M., Nova Scotia, Canada, 2nd year; Horace M. Beseckup, Lexington, 1st year.

*The Business of the School of Social Work is Human Problems
and...
The Work is Not Social*

Their Work
than Social

THE prospect of a serious operation can be a frightening thing, especially if you, the victim, aren't the only one involved.

What about my family?

Who will take care of my wife and four children while I'm bedfast?

How can I be sure they will be properly cared for?

Twenty years ago you would have thrown yourself in desperation on the mercy of a depression-crippled government for an answer, or counted your lucky stars that you knew one of the first graduates of the Boston College Graduate School of Social Work.

Which brings us to the story of one of the nation's few practical laboratories devoted to solving everyday human relations problems.

This unique school was founded back in March 1936 by Father Walter McGuinn, S.J., assisted by Miss Dorothy L. Book to answer the crying need for professional social workers who sincerely believed in the Parable of The Good Samaritan, tempered with scientific know-how.

The search for students to meet these stiff requirements was long and hard, but Father McGuinn and his successors found them. Six hundred as a matter of fact.

People like Ralph Whalen, '38, present Commissioner of Youth Services for the City of New York; William C. Giblin, '38, who directed Red Cross and UNRRA activities on the other side of the Iron Curtain after World War II, and Harold Tanglis, '41, Commissioner of Correction for the State of Rhode Island.

But what about Old Grad Whalen? Just what does he do that can be spelled out in basic terms?

With a budget of 50 million dollars and ten years of experience as a member of the Youth Service Board to qualify his efforts, Ralph's job is to coordinate youth, police, court, social workers and clinical services in New York and ease the city's juvenile delinquency problem. (And you think you have a problem?)

So it's easy to see that responsibilities of this nature require not only natural capabilities but a training period of sufficient length to provide each student with the skill necessary to handle problems objectively. And that's where the School of Social Work fits into the picture.

Students entering the school are faced with an intensive two year graduate training schedule prepared for them by specialists in social casework and community social work. Physicians and psychiatrists provide instruction in the newest techniques for treating and helping the helpless.

PRACTICAL experience is gained throughout New England in psychiatric and child guidance clinics, public welfare departments, Catholic charitable offices, and Community Chests and Councils.

This plan of study, grounded in a philosophy of true Christian charity toward all men, helps the student to acquire scientific knowledge of human growth and behavior. In this way theoretical knowledge is applied to actual social work service under professional supervision and guidance.

In addition to this on-the-job training in skills and attitudes, the school promotes, through a thesis project, competence in the student for social work research and writing.

Since many local and national groups are interested in promoting the training of social workers a wealth of scholarship money is available to students in these programs. This year $130,000 dollars has been awarded to over 80% of the full time students who come from all parts of the United States and Canada.

The training program has prepared graduates for different careers in the wide area of social work practice. Vince Ciampa, a former football great at Fordham and one time nemesis of Boston College, completed the B.C. graduate program in 1957 and is now one of the key figures working on the problem of Boston's West End Urban-Renewal Project.

Recently appointed as Director of Development for Boston College is Tom Cudmore, a graduate of the Community Social Work program in 1944. From 1953 to 1958 he worked for the Community Chest in Albany, New York, where he increased the contributions by 78%, making it tops for large cities in the U.S.

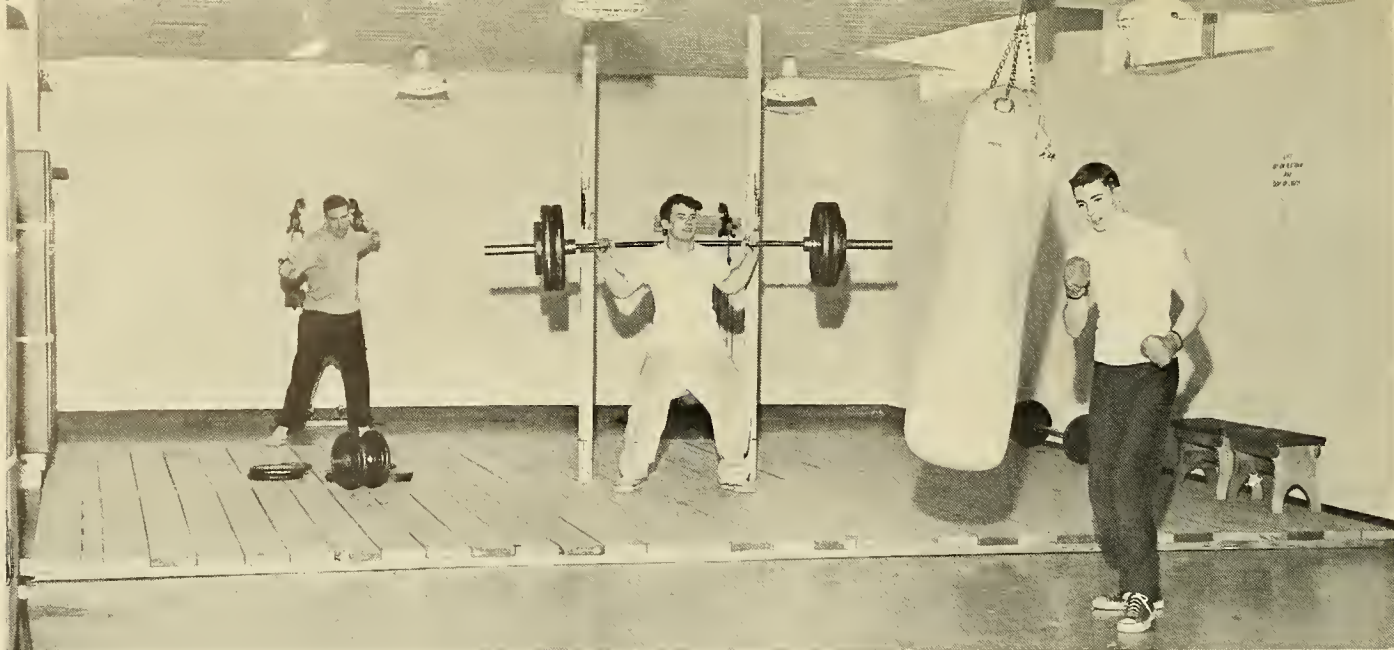

James V. Lavin, '39, is Executive Director of the Massachusetts American Cancer Society and President of the James V. Lavin Company. Mr. Gerard Shea, '41, is Director of Public Welfare of the District of Columbia. Doctor Anthony Stone, '42, is Instructor in Psychiatry at Johns Hopkins University Medical School; Jeanette Allen, '47, Director of Social Service at the Diagnostic Clinic for the Mentally Retarded in Cincinnati, Ohio; Gerald St. Denis, '53, Director of Social Service at the Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington, Vermont; Sister Mary Thomasine, O.S.F., '58 Director of the Holy Family Adoption Agency in Los Angeles.

THE efforts of our professionally-trained social workers aren't confined to the United States, either. For instance, Dorothy Baker, '48, is located in Bombay, India, where she heads that country's School of Social Work.

Father John V. Driscoll, S.J., present Dean of the school and a graduate of the class of '41, says, "The aims of our educational program are to provide the graduate with a well balanced program suited to his vocational goals. It is only in this way that we can expect a maximum return of charity from the trained abilities that these young men and women devote to the service of people in need."

Though the school is located miles apart from the main campus, at 126 Newbury St. in downtown Boston, this "maximum return" is felt every day here through the good works of our 600 graduates located across the face of the earth.

Which is sufficient reason enough for looking at your university with a new sense of pride and respect.

OOF!—in unison. Three BC men work up a sweat in Roberts Center's exercise room. Roberts Center's facilities are open to all students and faculty members, over 600 in all are active.

Their Department: In Corpore Sano

The not-so-awkward squad came into its own last winter when Mal McCloud and "Dino" Martin opened a thousand doors to students who will never wear a varsity letter.

And things have been swinging at Roberts Center ever since.

Not for the faithful season ticket holder or the rabid townie down the street, but for Joe Student and his friends who literally beat their brains out in intramural basketball, or struggle manfully to heist the Olympic barbells every day of the week.

Intramural sports, long a reluctantly-lost cause at Boston College, is now a red-hot issue on campus (which may come as a shock to alumni). Why? Because Roberts Center provides "the works" for the also-rans:

Three courts for basketball, volleyball or badminton. . . .

Four courts for squash and handball. . . .

A fully equipped exercise room, complete with rowing machine and speed bags. . . .

A boxing room. . . .

And a wonderful opportunity for Joe to widen his number of campus acquaintances and work off some steam.

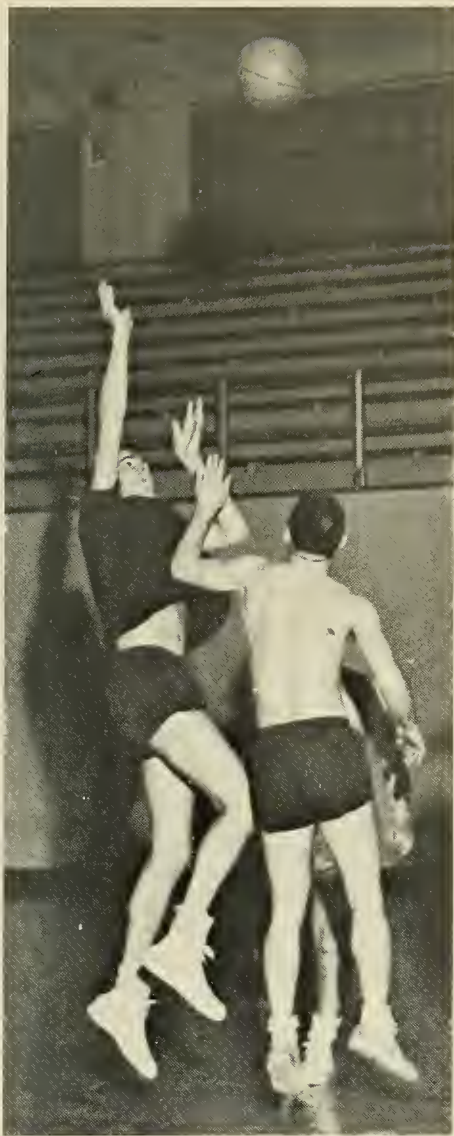

But Roberts Center isn't the whole story. There's McHugh Forum with its broad expanse of ice for a brand new sport: skating; and that old faithful — Alumni Field on central campus — where intramural touch football and softball hold forth.

Much of the credit for Boston College's new intramural spirit goes to McCloud and Martin. For their enthusiasm, combined with our wonderful new facilities, has drawn the poor man's Charles Atlas out of his shell and given him a new lease on college life.

They must be enthusiastic! How else could they control six dormitory basketball teams playing league games on the same floor simultaneously?

Director Mal McCloud, left, and Don "Dino" Martin (Asst. director), keep a weather eye on the hardboards as intramural basketball and volleyball teams mix it up. This is Roberts Center's central control room.

Sometimes it looks like organized mayhem, but there's still no quicker way to work up a sweat. . .

He's in orbit, but not weightless. An eager, Boston College undergrad takes a hurdle the hard way as he proves a case in point for intramural sports. "It ain't the form, it's the spirit!"

Watch the birdie! A tense moment for two players in one of Boston College's new sports activities, squash. Hitherto confined to the Ivy League and the New York Athletic Club set, one of the fastest indoor games has taken BC's intramurals by storm.

unless it's belting a fat one a mile in a softball game.

School is out.

New Address for No. 126

The Intown School moves to the Heights come September

The number 126 has a deep significance to hundreds of Boston College men and women. It identifies that building on Newbury Street which for the past thirty years has been the site of the Boston College Intown School. It becomes even more nostalgic with the recent announcement by Fr. Rector that in the Fall the evening school will be located on Campus,—the latest step in this trek back to the Campus.

No one doubts the wisdom of such a move. It co-ordinates administration policies. It increases the teaching potential through the use of the many facilities at the Heights, libraries, laboratories, classroom and parking. It brings to the students a touch of the Campus setting which is part and parcel of college life. Alumni of 126 are quick to applaud the decision.

But they can't avoid a few pangs of regret. They're moving into a new home, better environment, more gracious surroundings. But there has to be a lump in the collective throats of many to whom B.C. meant a tired but beloved old building on Newbury Street.

The Intown or Evening School under the direction of Fr. Charles Toomey, S.J., Dean, embodies a full curriculum for the many men and women of varied ages, nationalities, and stations in life who wish to further their education under Jesuit guidance. Doctors, lawyers, accountants, housewives, salesmen, policemen, secretaries, nurses, teachers have enrolled at B.C.I. to earn a college degree, or to brush up on individual courses. They have studied Literature, languages, Theology, Philosophy, Accounting, Marketing, Economics, Law, Natural and Social Sciences—the usual Jesuit curriculum—but in the evening hours, on Saturday mornings and in summer sessions.

Fr. Toomey's teaching staff includes for the most part the same professors who teach during the day at the Heights. Mr. John Norton, '22, for example, has taught English at the Intown School since 1932. Fr. Martin Harney, S.J., '19, well known to Alumni of all ages, is Professor of History. Two of the B.C.I. Alumni, Dr. Gerald MacDonald, who teaches at the B.C. School of Education and Mr. William Horne, Economics Instructor associated with the Remington Rand Division of United Shoe Machinery Company are included in the Faculty. So also is Mr. Elliot Norton, famed Boston Drama Critic who serves as guest lecturer.

Founded in 1929 by Fr. James H. Dolan, S.J. and Fr. John B. Creeden, S.J. Regent, the Evening College of Arts and Sciences has grown tremendously over the years. Four William J. McGarry scholarships, one a full tuition for six successive years, to honor the memory of the eminent educator and former President of Boston College and one Michael J. Harding, S.J., Scholarship are available to the students. The latter, also a full six year scholarship, honors the memory of the former Dean of the Intown College. These scholarships are awarded on the basis of competitive examinations held each September.

Today 906 students are enrolled in the Intown College. Many are full time students, many part-time. Many are parents—many more nuns and religious. Mrs. Maeve Finley, for example, the mother of 2 children, graduates this month and begins teaching in the Fall in the Newton Public School System. John Donoghue, also about to graduate is a promising young executive with the New England Tel. and Tel. Another senior, Roger Chappuis, who was born in France, but is a veteran of the U.S. Military Service will teach French in Sharon. Sophia Podoska, a Polish refugee, and part-time student, survived the double horror of concentration camps under both the Nazis and the Russians.

Alumni, too, have brought more than their share of honor to Boston College. There's John Gavin, Warden of the Walpole State Prison, whose heroic action during the recent prisoner uprising set an example for penal commissioners throughout the land. There's Lawrence Ryan, who, after 3 years at the Intown College, transferred to the Law School and is now the Counsel for the Mass. Turnpike Authority in addition to serving on the Faculty of the Intown School and the College of Business Administration. There are Dr. Rosemary Con-savage, Psychologist, and Katherine Keller, Guidance Counsellor in Needham, and Catherine Connors, a member of the B.C. Faculty in the Psychology Dept. There is John N. O'Malley, Industrial Consultant for the City of Taunton and Joseph Marshall, controller for Schrafft's. A complete list of those who have risen high in their respective fields as a result of their Intown School Education would make a story in itself.

One thing is certain. The College of Arts and Sciences Intown has long since proved itself a worthy member of the Boston College family. Thus the old order changeth. Boston College Intown is coming to the campus—where it belongs. At long last the Evening College of Arts and Sciences comes home.

Last Christmas, Professor John Norton, '22 was presented a gift by the Intown School in appreciation of his many years of service. Making the presentation is Senior Harold Donnelly. The beaming lady is Mrs. Norton.

General Chairman
Hon. Elias F. Shamon, '20

It was in the midst of the changing social and economic pattern of the "Depression Thirties" that Father James Kelley, S.J. stepped from his sophomore class in English Literature one pleasant spring afternoon in March, 1938 to answer a summons to the office of Rev. Father William J. McGarry, S.J., the President of Boston College. It was with complete surprise and possibly momentary bewilderment, that Father Kelley heard the announcement that he was to be the first dean of a Boston College School of Business Administration.

While it took only a few moments to commission Father Kelley with full authority to organize the physical facilities, to plan the proper curriculum and to assemble the necessary faculty, the creation of the Business School was the product of long study and serious consideration. Father McGarry, Father J. R. N. Maxwell, S.J., then Dean of Boston College, and other administrative officers of the College had devoted much time and effort to evaluating the need, the objectives, and the problems involved in adding a completely new and independent four year educational unit to a fast growing Boston College which had moved only a quarter of a century earlier from the limited horizon of Harrison Avenue and pointed its Gothic towers into the heavens from the heights in Newton.

Leaders from the fields of public utilities, banking, insurance, industrial management, merchandising and distribution were brought into consultation to supply definite knowledge as to what business executives expect of a business college. Administrators, educators and deans from other schools, both Jesuit and non Jesuit, also played a part in bringing to fulfillment the decision to create a school of business administration at Boston College. Business subjects were not entirely unknown at the Heights. For some years past, courses in accounting had been offered to juniors and seniors in the College of Arts and Science, but it was now decided with finality that the addition of a few isolated elective courses in business subjects was not the answer to a new and pressing need that faced a resurgent business economy.

Difficulties Galore

It was with this assignment that Father Kelley left the President's office on that March day, with a much more serious mien than when he entered. Teaching English to a sophomore class was a simple task compared to the responsibility of organizing and bringing into existence a completely new school of business administration, especially when one's own experience in business administration is rather limited.

As the man who was to guide the destiny of the new Business School for the next ten years, walked toward the chapel in St. Mary's Hall, he might have felt his new responsibility even more keenly, if he could have foreseen some of the difficulties and problems that would beset the new school. The difficulty, for example, of finding suitable space for a new member in an institution already feeling the pinch of cramped facilities; the doubt in the minds of some that this type of school was within the province of the ideals and objectives of Jesuit education; the difficulty of finding a faculty that had sound knowledge of business procedure based on experience or technical training and also the capacity of imparting this information successfully to others; and the spectre of a world war which, even before his first class graduated, was to scatter the youth of America across the battlefields of the world.

How did these difficulties work out? Father Kelley must have felt, during the first two years of the new Business School's existence, somewhat like a man who possesses a precious gem, but experiences some difficulty in finding a setting for it. The new Business School opened with seventy-two students in September 1938 and within three academic years the school had moved three times.

It opened at 126 Newbury Street in downtown Boston, where only two years before the School of Social Work, and the evening Intown Center had been organized and set up. At this point the school had two class rooms, two full time faculty members and depended for the rest of its instruction upon Jesuits from the Arts and Science school and lecturers from the business world. To accommodate an entering class of one hundred freshmen the school moved out to Gasson Hall on the Heights, because no more room was available downtown.

The following September (1941) the school moved from Gasson Hall to the newly acquired Liggett estate, renamed Cardinal O'Connell Hall in honor of Cardinal O'Connell. When the war took its toll of freshman classes, the business school moved back to smaller quarters in Gasson Hall. In the year 1946-47 when the impact of demand for business education began to make itself felt in the form of returning GI's, the Business School spread itself through O'Connell Hall, through temporary army barracks on the campus—through St. Joseph's Hall until plans for a completely new building on the heights campus were formulated and the building, identified as Fulton Hall, was completed and occupied in September 1948.

Tangible Accomplishments

As the decade of 1938 to 1948 drew to a close the accomplishments of the new Business School under its first dean were tangibly evident in Fulton Hall, a modern building geared to fit the needs of a growing school; a permanent faculty of over sixty members; and a well coordinated curriculum of studies embracing cultural subjects and three major fields of concentration in business, accounting, industrial management and marketing with two more, finance and economics in the process of being developed into major specialized fields.

While we are talking about 1948, it was not without a feeling of sadness that the faculty heard the announcement in November, 1948, that Father James Kelley, who had guided the new Business School's destiny for the past ten years was being assigned to the task of directing the new Boston College High School to be built on Morrissey Boulevard near Columbia Circle in Dorchester. No one on the faculty who worked with Father Kelley would say he was not a proven candidate for this new task, but neither could any one escape the fact that he was losing contact with a man he had come to love and respect and he wondered when and if their paths would cross again.

The Curriculum

If there were Boston College associates, alumni or friends who felt that the halls and heights that had echoed to the orations of Cicero, or the tragedies of Sophocles or the philosophy of Thomas Aquinas, could not enter into a partnership of education with a school devoted to the principles of business administration, the experience of the past two decades at B.C. seems to have removed any grave doubts or fears. Today the curriculum of the school of Arts and Sciences and the school of Business Administration are so designed that participation in the specialized courses offered by both schools is available in a reasonable degree to students of both schools by means of elective courses which are offered in each school.

In the new school's title the greatest stress appeared to be placed on the term "Administration," implying that the school's principal goal was the development of students who would be capable of assuming responsibility, after some seasoning and training by business in the areas of organization, policy making and control or management. In this pursuit, gracious cooperation was forthcoming from Boston College's neighbor, The Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, across the river. Professor Hanson of Harvard's accounting department, Professor Malcolm McNair, specialist in the distribution field, as well as Dean Emeritus David, and the present Dr. Teel were among those who contributed to the organization of the new school. And in those days there was hardly an educational convention that Father Kelley missed; frequent were his visits to Marquette University, Fordham, St. Louis, the University of Loyola from which business schools he sought to discover benefit for his own.

There is little need to dwell upon the impact of the war period from 1941 to 1946—war dislocates all things, lives, homes, industry and even educational institutions and war had its dislocating effects on the new C.B.A. Registration decreased, classes were accelerated in the face of inevitable military service, changes in quarters were made and for the war's duration forward progress was halted.

The Second Decade

As we turn from the first decade of the school's existence to the second decade, extending from 1948-49 to 1958-59 the results of the forward progress resumed after the war can clearly be seen in the growth in enrollment following the enactment of the so-called GI bill. Veterans from the army, navy, marines and air force invaded the C.B.A. to avail themselves of the educational advantages offered. Ex army sergeants, former air force or navy pilots, former military engineers and technicians made the corridors of Fulton Hall echo to sound of shuffling feet answering the call to the classroom, either to complete an interrupted education or to undertake one that had not been contemplated prior to military service.

Enrollment grew until the facilities of Fulton Hall were severely taxed. The student body rose swiftly from approximately 600 or 800 to 1400, with freshman entering classes averaging 400 and graduating classes averaging approximately 350.

Father James D. Sullivan, S.J. who succeeded to the administrative post of Dean left vacant by Father Kelley continued to coordinate and increase the efficiency of the school in meeting the increasing demands upon it. The fields of Finance and Economics were made fields of major concentration for students who wished to specialize in them. The opportunity to benefit by participation in extra curricular activities was increased and additional student publications, academies, clubs of beneficial character were encouraged. The curriculum was studied constantly with the view of strengthening it and better coordinating it. The faculty continued to increase in numbers and versatility until it reached almost double what it was at the close of the first decade in 1948. It was with deep regret that the faculty of the C.B.A. learned that ill health forced Father Sullivan to retire from his quiet but intensive and fruitful efforts to further the stability and growth of the new school, now approximately half way through its second decade.

Fr. Joyce, S.J. addresses a Seminar gathering

Community Service

In 1954 Father Seavey Joyce, S.J., an eminent economist and head of the Economics Department took over the administrative post of Dean, by appointment of Rev. Father J.R.N. Maxwell—Rector of the College. At this stage of the school's development it is possible to point out a sort of informal pattern of progress under its sequence of administrative offices. If we consider the efforts of Father Kelley and Father Sullivan to have been necessarily and largely devoted to initiating, developing and consolidating the new school—it might be said that the equally consistent and energetic efforts of the present administrator have been directed toward the national and official recognition of the school, and the exercise of local community interest by placing at the disposal of the local community such assistance as the College and its facilities can bring to bear in local problems.

And even to the casual observer such efforts have not been lacking in satisfying and consoling results for the school and for Boston College as a university.

The Seminar program instituted under the present Dean is too well known and publicized to need any comment in this brief article. That the Boston College School of Business Administration has performed a service to its local community by focusing attention on local economic problems and providing the leadership for open discussion is beyond doubt. Positive appraisal of such civic participation has been extended by the Ford Foundation and by outstanding leaders in business.

Such official recognition is exhilarating but unofficial recognition is perhaps equally important.

How does business regard the Boston College School of Business Administration? Without any attempt to be statistically expert, there is evidence that business employs successfully many of its 3000 graduates; one hundred or more corporations with organized recruiting plans visit the campus each year to interview Business School graduates; graduates of the school are represented on the payrolls of employers in 34 states and in 14 foreign countries. "CBA rates very highly at G.E." "CBA considered tops at Pratt & Whitney" are two comments among others. A graduate, now a regional sales manager in Ohio comments as follows "please impress upon the minds of your students that they are receiving the very best under-graduate business course in existence."

Baseball

Despite a five win—six loss—one tie record, this year's baseball team is the finest to represent the Heights in many a season. Most observers agree with coach Eddie Pellagrini that maybe five of the dozen "could have gone our way with a break here or there."

Pelly points to five extra inning games—one a 0-0 tie with Colby and the ill luck of Sophomore knuckleballer, Bob Niemiec of Chicopee.

The righthander lost a three-hitter to A.I.C. 2-1; gave up four hits to Colby in the 0-0 tie; had a no-hit, no-run game going into the last of the ninth with B.U. and lost 4-2; also lost a 3-2 overtime to Tufts. Niemiec has more strikeouts and the best earned run average on the squad, but still seeks his first win.

Big Bill Robinson, who co-stars in the BC football backfield, has a 3-0 pitching record by virtue of a 5-1 victory over MIT and two relief efforts against Providence College and Northeastern. Robinson is a speedball specialist.

Coach Pellagrini, former major league infielder, demands hustle and extra effort from his players. He gets it, too.

His outfield trio of sophomores Gerry Hamel (Wantagh, L.I.) Bob Martin (Somerville) and junior Bob Usseglio (Winthrop) are all long ball hitters and steady defensive performers. Usseglio, a junior, will not be available again next year, since he enters Tufts Dental School next Fall.

Captain and third baseman Ray Stebbins of Tilton, N.H. steadies a strong infield of senior Dick Tierney (ss), sophomore Bob "Skinny" Graham (2b), senior Joe Kelly (1b) and senior Peter McLaughlin (c).

Doing very well in supporting roles are pitchers George Giersch (recent basketball captain), Jim Curtin, Freddie Milton and Gerry Soendley. Tommy "Red" Martin, popular hockey defenseman has helped at first base, while Dave Boen (2b) and George Noone (3b) have filled in successfully when called upon.

Track

Captain John Joyce in the distance races and Larry Barry, in the weights, javelin, and hurdles have produced many points for the BC track team. Bob O'Leary, John Hurley and Eddie Quinn have also added much to the success of the Gilligans.

The team already boasts wins over Brandeis, University of Mass., Amherst and Bowdoin in 5 dual meets. Strong Maine bested the Eagles 72-65.

B.U., Syracuse and Holy Cross proved too much for B.C. in a quad meet at White Stadium but Coach Gilligan has hopes for some individual success in the forthcoming Eastern meet at Worcester Poly, the New England IC4A at Storrs, Conn., and the two national meets—IC4A and NCAA.

Basketball

Mid-term personnel losses slowed down the B.C. basketball team but not the spirit of Don Martin's group.

Dedicating Roberts Center with a victory over Holy Cross, the Eagles went on to defeat NCAA tourney participant Connecticut and edged other successful tourney-bound teams—Providence and B.U. Their season's 17-9 record was then commendable.

The annual Ronald J. Hickey award was presented to Captain George Giersch at the Varsity Club's Spring Dinner. Giersch, who completed three varsity seasons with more than 900 points scored, was hampered a good part of the season with illness and injuries but still provided some excellent performances.

Senior Jack Magee was the team's top scorer, for the second consecutive season, with 333 points. Jack Schoppmeyer of Plainview, N.Y., was elected Captain of the 1959-60 team.

The freshman team looked impressive on its way to a 14-3 season and a number of the first year players will contribute much to next year's varsity.

Hockey

The hockey team wound up the season with a 20-8 record and the Eastern Championship. The Eagles beat St. Lawrence in overtime to gain third place and the regional title.

The tenth annual Pike's Peak Club dinner held at Lyons Hall April 21 to honor the team was attended by the largest crowd in history.

Tim Ready, '36, one of BC's all-time goal tenders, was General Chairman and former captain, Eddie Carroll, served as toastmaster.

Coach John A. "Snooks" Kelley, completing his 23rd season at the helm, was acclaimed Coach-of-the-Year. Captain and All-American Joe Jangro, received the Most Valuable Player Award. Senior defenseman Bob Boyle was named the Most Improved Player while another defenseman Tommy Martin received the award as the man most typifying a BC player. Goalie Jim Logue took the "Best in the Clutch," trophy while John Madden was the first recipient of the Maurice J. Tobin athlete-scholar award. Charlie McCarthy captured the freshman trophy—Most Valuable—for his outstanding efforts as a forward and goal tender.

Since most of the players return, next season should be even more exciting. Ed Smith will captain the team. National Champion North Dakota will be the opponent on December 29 at the Forum.

Football

The varsity whipped the alumni 20-14 in an action-packed wind-up game to the Spring football drills.

Minus a number of first string players, the varsity was never in serious trouble although a star-spangled graduate-senior group made the May 2 afternoon a delightful one for the three thousand viewers.

Coach Mike Holovak is already aware of the talents of tackle Harry Ball, Captain Frank Casey, end Larry Eisenhower, halfback Vin Hogan, fullback Frank Robotti, and quarterback John Amabile. But he enjoyed the performances of ends Lou Kirouac and Joe Sikorski, guard Bill Byrne and tackles Dan Sullivan and John Buckley—all freshmen with a great potential.

Overall the Spring sessions were very successful according to Coach Holovak. But, little time will be available to the BC team once the autumn workouts commence.

Navy makes an early call at the Chestnut Hill port—September 19—and the Eagles fly to West Point a week later.

A flood of season ticket applications is indicative of the Alumni interest in the coming season. Besides the service schools, the Eagles take on Villanova, Dartmouth, Marquette and Pittsburgh at home and Detroit, B.U. and Holy Cross on foreign fields. All away games are included in the optional season ticket plan.

Three new coaches assisting Mike are Johnny Druze, former Marquette headcoach; Don Panciera, 1946 Eagle freshman quarterback assisting at Dayton the past two years; and Emerson Dickie, '56 outstanding BC end from Malden. Vin St. Pierre is starting his third season as line coach.

B. C.

Mid Hudson Valley

A Boston College Alumni Club has been formed for the Mid Hudson (N.Y.) Valley. A Communion Breakfast, a picnic and a B.C.-West Point Football Reception are some of the initial activities already scheduled. B.C. grads in the area should contact the newly elected president, Fred Mauriello, Box 237, R.F.D. No. 4, Saugerties, N. Y. for membership. Other officers recently elected include, William Bond, Vice President, Dr. Joseph Kerrigan, Treasurer and George Moore, Secretary.

Rhode Island

The B.C. Club of Rhode Island following its dinner dance and reception to Fr. Walsh last January, continues its string of successful activities. On March 8, seventy members attended the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast. Mass was held at the Cathedral with the breakfast at the Sheraton-Biltmore. On Saturday, April 25, the Club played host to the Boston College Glee Club, President Michael Healey reports a full house and, according to the newspaper accounts the finest such concert that the City of Providence has known.

Downtown

Fr. Rector addressed the members of the Downtown Luncheon Club on May 6. This club which meets once a week during the football season and once a month during the remainder of the year at Thompson's Spa in Newspaper Row, has been increasing its membership steadily. Any grads who wish to be placed on the mailing list should contact Tom Lane at Alumni Hall.

Cleveland

Paul J. Beddia has been elected President. Plans for the coming year include an organizational meeting this month and a group attendance at the B.C.-Pitt game in the Fall. Paul's address is 1822 Reyburn Road, Cleveland and he is eager to hear from any Alumni in the Cleveland area who as yet are not members of the Club.

Connecticut

A successful Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast was held at the Roger Smith Elton Hotel after Mass at St. Mary's Hospital Chapel. Fr. John Ryan celebrated the Mass and later gave an interesting talk on life at B.C. Twenty-five Alumni and 1 Alumna attended. A small collection enriched the Laetare Scholarship Fund by $23.00 Tom Lane, Director of Alumni Relations, will address the group on Wednesday, May 28, in Wallingford.

Washington

Commissioner of the Federal Communications Commission was the principal speaker at the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast held at Oblate College on the grounds of the Catholic University. Over 70 B.C. men attended. Mass was celebrated by Msgr. McDonough our Alumni Chaplain and the sermon was preached by Very Rev. Francis J. Crump, O.M.I., '32, Rector of the Oblate College.

San Francisco

Sixteen Alumni, their wives and children were on hand for the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast. Mass was held at the chapel on Treasure Island, San Francisco Bay. Arrangements were made by Major Marty Banett, '41. Celebrant, Fr. Schnur, a Fordham grad is a self-described B.C. 'football nut'. The Francis Drake Hotel was the site of the breakfast. The next meeting will be a reception to Fr. John Driscoll, S.J., Dean of the Boston College School of Social Work, who will be with us on May 27.

New England is a fertile land for growing minds

High on the list of New England's achievements is the scholarly tradition that has grown up here. New Englanders pioneered education in America — the first college, the first secondary school, the first public school, the first women's college. Today, New England schools and colleges are respected throughout the world . . . and the nation still looks this way for educational leadership.

These things didn't happen merely by an accident of time or geography. By respecting the scholar, admiring the inquisitive mind, New Englanders provided a fine climate for learning. Today, every state in the nation and nearly every nation in the world is represented in the enrollment of the New England colleges listed below. This June, more than 23,000 students will graduate from these institutions. From these young people will come spiritual, educational, industrial and political leaders of tomorrow. Surely what they gain here, by living and learning together in a spirit of scholarship, benefits everyone, everywhere.

One of New England's proudest accomplishments is its continuing contribution to education. The First National Bank of Boston is equally proud to have worked with New England's schools and colleges for 175 years.

U.S. Attorney General William P. Rogers was Principal Speaker at the 30th Anniversary Dinner of the B.C. Law School. Here Atty. Gen. Rogers chats with General Chairman Dan Halland, '35, LL.B., '39, Father Rector and Rev. Robert Drinan, S.J., Dean of the Law School.

Schools . . .

One of the latest steps in the progress of the University is the introduction of a program leading to a Ph.D. degree in chemistry. For the past year a committee consisting of Dr. Andre J. de Bethune, chairman, Rev. Albert F. Guinn, S.J., Dr. David C. O'Donnell, Dr. Joseph Bornstein and Dr. Kenneth J. Tauer, has been investigating the possibilities of such a program. After careful study, they recommended that permission be given to grant the Ph.D. degree. Permission was obtained. A careful study of existing programs in other universities is presently underway. Dr. Ralph K. Carleton has replaced Dr. Tauer as a member of the committee. On or about December 1, 1959, a detailed program arising from the committee's findings will be announced. Active research in organic and physical chemistry has been in progress for several years and it is anticipated that the program will be limited to those two fields.

A new series on the Alumni has begun in the Heights through which the students will be made aware of the mechanical format, the aims, ideals and devotion of the Alumni body to Alma Mater. This edition of the Alumni News, incidentally, will be issued to all members of the Senior Class.

The College of Business Administration made headline news throughout Canada recently, when it sponsored jointly with the Boston Globe the Canadian-American Business Conference. The Conference was held in conjunction with 'Canada in Boston Week', a fair trade program. Fr. W. Seavey Joyce, S.J., Dean of the Business School was Chairman of the Conference. Topics of discussion included: The U.S. Policy in Canadian-American Business Relations; Current opportunities and growth prospects in the Canadian Economy; Problems of American Investment in Canada and New England. Among those taking part in the conference were: Frederick H. Mueller, Undersecretary of Commerce; H. G. Morman, President, Montreal Stock Exchange; and His Excellency Arnold D. P. Heeney, O.C., LL.D., Canadian Ambassador to the United States.

Myles J. Lane, LL.B., '34, Commissioner of Investigation for the State of New York will be the guest speaker at the Law School Alumni Association meeting to be held May 28. Lane, a former Dartmouth All-American football player and member of the New York Rangers and Boston Bruins hockey teams as well as a former U.S. Attorney for the State of New York, will speak on the problems of crime national and international.

On May 4, the Law School hosted a symposium combating the Problems of Youth in Massachusetts, which considered patterns of crime and delinquency by juveniles in the Commonwealth. The symposium was sponsored by the Mass. Council of Juvenile Court Judges, the Mass. Chiefs of Police Assoc., and the greater Boston Council of Youth.

Soon to be published is the initial issue of the Boston College Law School Alumni Newsletter. It is anticipated that the Newsletter will be published on a quarterly basis and will be conceived with events and facts of general interest to the Law School Alumni.

Professor William J. O'Keefe, will be honored at the May Meeting of the Alumni on the occasion of his retirement from active teaching at the Law School. "Mister Chips," has been with the Law School since its inception in 1929. He has taught a wide range of subjects and served as Dean, Assistant Dean and Acting Dean during his distinguished career.

1147 Tremont St., Boston

All up for the celebration of our FORTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY which we will celebrate on Alumni Day, Friday, June 5. Please put this down on your calendar immediately and let nothing hinder you from being present. This will be our last celebration before our GOLDEN JUBILEE

Father FRED DEASY, Pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Wakefield had his dreams come true when his new convent was dedicated February 28 with His Eminence the Cardinal presiding.

FRED DOYLE'S son, Charles '50 is serving his fourth term in the House of Representatives on Beacon Hill.

We were shocked at the sudden death of our beloved classmate DAN YOUNG on February 25. He was an original member of the Class which started at B.C. High in September 1906 and was a loyal member of the class and faithfully contributed to its enterprises. R.I.P. He was buried from St. Agatha's Church, Milton where our Class President Bishop MacKENZIE presided and gave final absolution. Also in attendance were: Monsignor BOB BARRY, Father ED McLAUGHLIN of Hamilton, Father FRED DEASY of Wakefield and the following laymen TOM FINNEGAN, DR. FRANK DEVLIN, JOHN KAPPLES and JOHN KEOHANE.

Congratulations on the FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY of Ordination to the BILL MURPHY has returned to the suburbs. His new address is: 23 Lexington Street, Wellesley.

FRANK REYNOLD's picture recently appeared in the Sunday Herald. He was posing with the bathing beauties of Scottsdale, Arizona.

BILL CARNEY's new address is: 802 Main Street, Melrose.

FRANK ROCHE is seriously ill at the Veterans Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

It's now Monsignor CASEY. If you have read the 'Pilot', you would have enjoyed the Monsignor's article when he was made Right Reverend.

JOHN MITCHELL and FRANK ROCHE, did a great job in planning our class banquet. We had about 32 present.

Don't forget your contribution to the Alumni Fund.

JOHN FLYNN gathered the class for the annual meeting at Alumni Hall on April 27th. Those present included RT. REV. WILLIAM McCARTHY, FR. FRANK QUINN, FR. FRANK FLAHERTY, FR. MAURICE DULLEA, S.J., FR. ANTHONY MESZLIS, S.J., DR. CY LYDON, DR. CHARLEY TWOMEY, TOM CRAVEN, ED CRUISE, JOE DEE, JACK DOYLE, WALTER DURAN, JOHN HENNESSEY, MARTY HIGGINS, BO MAHONEY, JACK McCARTY, RADO McKEOWN, MAURICE MURPHY, DAN O'CONNOR, NICK PETROCELLI, BILL REID, CHARLEY SHARKEY, LES SHEA, and BILL WELSH. FR. DULLEA explained the extracurricular activities going on at the Heights by enumerating the items from the schedule for the month of April. DAN O'CONNOR, who was on the pilgrimage to Rome when HIS EMINENCE, CARDINAL CUSHING, was elevated, described his experiences on that occasion. He dwelt on the architectural wonders which were of special interest to him.

ED CRUISE, who has been away from these parts for many years, was a welcome sight. He is now with Boston Woven Hose in Cambridge.

MARTY HIGGINS has announced the engagement of his daughter, Mary Abigail, to John F. Healy, BC '52 and also a graduate of B.C. Law School.

RT. REV. WILLIAM McCARTY, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, Marblehead, recently opened an addition to the parish school. At the dedication CARDINAL CUSHING presided and also unveiled an oil portrait of the late pastor of the parish, RT. REV. AUGUSTINE HARGEDON who died in June of 1958. The parish was founded in 1859.

BO MAHONEY and MARTY HIGGINS were recently listed in Librarian, a publication of the Friends of Boston College Library, for their gifts of books to the library. We note that the late JOHN MAHONEY and the late FRANK LIMONT were listed as Friends of the library.

RT. REV. JOHN CONNOLLY who died in November of 1958 was very beautifully eulogized in a recent number of the Orphan's Friend, a publication of Boyhaven, West Newbury.

JOHN DEE and Mrs. Dee are planning to go to Florence, Italy, to attend the awarding of a master's degree in fine arts to daughter, Deborah, at Pope Pius XII Institute where she has been on a Cardinal Spellman Scholarship. Following this the Dees will tour Italy and other European countries and wind up their trip with a visit to Ireland.

JACK DOYLE announced almost 50% of the class have contributed to the Alumni Fund. He hopes that those who have not yet made a contribution will do so very soon so that his final report may be made before Alumni Day.

on Sunday, May 24. Our classmate, FATHER ED DOUGLAS, S.J. will offer the Holy Sacrifice for our departed members in the chapel of St. Mary's Hall at 10:30 A.M. Breakfast for the class, their wives and families will follow in the Dining Room of Alumni Hall.

The second event will be our Alumni Day, June 5. A special room in Lyon's Hall has been set aside for us. There we shall have luncheon, about noon. Then the usual "Parade of the Classes", the ball game and dinner.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE CLASS HAS BEEN CONTACTED AND IS EXPECTED TO ATTEND.

Since our last issue another member of our class, BERNIE DONOVAN, has died. "Bernie" received his Master's degree from Catholic University and his Doctorate from his Alma Mater in 1938. He was also a member of the Massachusetts Bar. After thirty years of service in the Boston schools he retired to become professor of history at Merrimack College. In World War I he served in the Army and in World War II was a Lieutenant-Commander in the Navy. He was one of the organizers of the Aquinas League, an affiliate of the Cardinal Cushing Charity Fund. In recognition of his exceptional career as an outstanding Catholic layman Cardinal Cushing presided at his funeral Mass and gave the final benediction. To his brother, REV. JOHN A. DONOVAN and to his sister Catherine, the members of the class extend their deep sympathy. May he rest in peace!

HENRY FITZPATRICK, principal of Holyoke High School, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Secondary School Principals' Association. He had been chairman of the committee revising high school curriculum. Rumor reports that he was in favor of introducing the study of Russian. What about GREEK, Henry?

FRED SHEA has been cited by the United States Government for his service in the Veterans' Administration. Congratulations Fred, on well merited recognition.

JOE HOLDEN's son, "Joe", has been promoted to the rank of captain in the United States Army. "Joe", his wife Ann, and their daughter "Cathy" are stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia. Congratulations both to old Joe and young Joe.

WE'LL SEE YOU AT THE CLASS REUNION.

'20 BOB BRAWLEY
33 Promfet St., West Roxbury

The members of the class were saddened in April to hear of the death of our classmate, AUGUSTINE D. HORGAN. "Gus", made his last appearance with the gang at the annual reunion last October. He had been president of the Boston College Club of Washington. The sincerest sympathy of the class is extended to his sister and brothers and also to JOHN "LONNIE" RING, who lost his brother, Mathew in April.

BILL "DEMO" DEMPSEY has just returned from a visit with his daughter, Mary, a Sister of Providence stationed in Washington and, talking of history repeating itself, Bill's son, Jack, was captain of the B.C. track team this year. Bill was captain in 1920 and N.E. Intercollegiate broad jump champion in our day.

It is a pleasure to report that GENE McCABE is back on the job after a siege of sickness.

CHARLIE MCGILL reports that he will be glad to hear from all members of 1920. Charlie is doing an outstanding job as chairman of our 40th reunion and the class officers owe him a debt of gratitude for his unselfish devotion and work for our big reunion in 1960.

'21 GORDON F. IRONS
9 Emmonsdale Rd., W. Roxbury

The following classmates were present at the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast: JOHN BURKE, JOE DOYLE, ARTHUR DONOVAN, JOHN FOSTER, JIM GOOKIN, FRANK HANNON, JERRY MAHONEY, JACK MAHONY, JOHN McGRATH, RALPH MONKS, GENE O'NEIL, MARK RUSSO, and GORDON IRONS.

LEO J. CALLANAN is now in his fourth year as a member of the Immigration Dept. of the N.C.W.C. in Washington. He retired from the Foreign Service in March, 1955. His son, Kevin, is doing his junior year at the Univ. of Fribourg, Switzerland, in the setup called "Georgetown-at-Fribourg" in which about 15 Georgetown juniors participate each year. LEO's daughter, Margaret, is a junior at Ursuline Academy, Bethesda, Maryland.

CHARLEY COYLE's daughter, Carol, is head of Junior Fashions for Jordan Marsh Co. His daughter, Ellen, is a junior at the Newton Country Day School of the Sacred Heart.

ARTHUR DONOVAN is an estimator for Acoustical Contractors, Inc., Brighton.

DR. I. FRANCIS GREGORY left in April for a six weeks' trip to Europe.

ED HANNON, Referee in Bankruptcy, United States District Court, has two children married. Marie is now Mrs. Malinowski. Ed's son, Eddie, is a lawyer. Another son, Barry, graduated from Holy Cross in 1958 and is now attending B.U. Law School.

DR. VIN KELLEY's son, Gregory, was the winner of the U.S. junior men's figure skating title recently.

JOHN H. V. MacGRATH is now living in Alhambra, California.

The sympathy of the Class is extended to BILL CUNNINGHAM, whose wife, Margaret, passed away in March.

JERRY MAHONEY is a trustee of the Faulkner Hospital in Jamaica Plain. Jerry is also a member of the Alumni Fund Council. JOE DOYLE is our Class Supervisor of the Fund Drive. Let's help them to have our Class in the 100% Participation List!

The sympathy of the class is extended to TOM BURYON, whose wife Mary passed away, May 7.

'22 NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS
15 Kirk St., West Roxbury

Members of the Class are sorry to learn of the death of REV. JAMES HAMILTON, Pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Billerica, who passed away in April. FATHER HAMILTON was with us in freshman and sophomore before he transferred to Holy Cross. Our classmates of B.C. High are sad at the demise of REV. EDWARD SULLIVAN, S.J., formerly Dean of Men at Boston College and at the time of his death a member of the faculty at B.C. High. Father Ed had been connected with the high school or the college ever since he entered B.C. High with us in 1914. No man has ever been held in more esteem by B.C. men than has Father Sullivan!

Classmates attending the 37th anniversary class banquet at Alumni Hall were vocal in their praise of TIM COLLINS for his clever work as chairman. Among those in attendance were ED BELL, BILL CANTY, all four COLLINSES, FATHER JOHN COLLINS, JOE DONOVAN, MONSIGNORI JAMES DOYLE and THOMAS RILEY, RAY DRUGAN, PAUL DURRLY, FATHERS LEO FLYNN and LEONARD McMAHAN, PAUL FOISY, LEN HEALY, DAN McSWEENEY, ED MADDEN, TOM MAHAN, ARTHUR MORRISSEY, JOHN NORTON, FATHER THOMAS RAY, M.M., ARTHUR TIERNEY, JOHN TOOMEY, STEVE VELARDO, and Honorary Classmate CHARLES McNAMEE. These men have ever been loyal to B.C.

I had the good fortune to visit for an hour with Charley Daley at his home at Wilmington, Delaware, in February, en route to Virginia Beach on a week's junket with MATT BUTLER, '23. Charley looks well, is a grandfather eight times, and has retired from his duties as a patent lawyer for Dupont.

FATHER LEO FLYNN is engaged in a major project at Norfolk where he is currently supervising the building of a new church for his parish. Changes among the clergy find MONSIGNOR JAME DOYLE assuming new duties at St. Peter's in Dorchester, while another '22 man, REV. WILLIAM CONLEY succeeds MONSIGNOR DOYLE at St. Patrick's.

See you at the B.C. baseball games and track meets!

FR. PATRICK COLLINS, S.J. was chaplain to the Most Reverend John W. Comber at the Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving celebrated in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York in early April on the occasion of AMERICA'S Fiftieth Anniversary of Publication. Bishop Comber is the brother of JOE COMBER, our Classmate. JOE is Director of the Chamber of Commerce for Greater Lawrence. FR. PAT was also the official greeter at AMERICA'S Open House up at Campion House on West 108th Street to about 400 people who came to extend their congratulations on the happy occasion.

DR. C. JOSEPH DELANEY has recently been appointed Chief of the Medical Staff at Misericordia Hospital. JOE's son Robert will be married to Miss Metta Trautmer in Copenhagen, Denmark on July 11th. Bishop Suhr of Copenhagen will officiate at the Nuptials.

Mr. and Mrs. AL BEDARD will sail with the Delaneys on June 23rd to attend the wedding.

BILL MacDONALD in his official capacity was in Session with the Committee of the Sloane Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York recently.

The JOHN FLAVINs celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary in October. Daughter Jane graduated from Manhattanville, has been Director of Nurses at Quincy Hospital and is presently touring Europe, and will be taking courses at the Sorbonne before returning to the U.S.

Loyal members of the Class of '23 who attended the Laetare Sunday Communion were CECIL McGOLDRICK, JOE CRANE and HARRY MULLOWNEY. Harry's son Thomas H. Jr. is at Boston College and son James is at Holy Cross.

JOE SWEENEY and GAYNOR WELLINGS have just returned from their annual winter sojourn in Florida.

The CECE McGOLDRICK's are receiving congratulations on the birth of a fourth grandchild, a boy.

BART HOGAN, (Rear Admiral, U.S.N.) has just been reappointed for another term of two years as Surgeon General of the U.S. Navy by President Eisenhower. The Class extends its congratulations.

Dr. ED. BURKE, President of the Guild of St. Apollonia, at a reception at the Italian Home for Little Children in Jamaica Plain, accepted the new dental clinic, which had been donated to the institution.

MYLES McSWEENEY has been on the sick list for some time now. However, he is on the mend, and we hope it won't be too long before he will be out and around again as good as new. Young John McSweeney was flown home from Korea to see his dad during his hospitalization.

TOM ECCLES is still at English High School. His son, William T. was married about a year ago to Miss Irene Fitzgerald. He is now a First Lieutenant attached to the Fifth Air Force Command in Japan. A Good-will mission to Guam and Australia is his present assignment by the Air Force. Son, Thomas G. Jr. will be graduated in June from the Engineering School at Tufts, and after graduation will be associated with Pratt-Whitney Company of Hartford, Conn. in the Engineering Department.

From Medford and FRANK HICKEY we hear that his daughter Casandra will be receiving her Master's degree in Education and Biology from Tufts in June. His younger daughter, Ramonda is a Freshman at Emmanuel College.

From up Rochester way comes word that JOHN D. ROCHE is Vice President and Advertising Director of B. Forman & Company. John presided as Toastmaster at the Fourth Annual Communion Breakfast which graduates from eleven Jesuit institutions attended at the McQuaid Jesuit High School chapel.

Alumni Day at the Heights is just around the corner — The Class doesn't seem to get together and this might be a very nice time to renew friendships made way back.

Just a little reminder that your Secretary would like a little help from some of the Classmates that haven't been heard from or seen in some time. Please feel free to call me or drop me a note so that I can pass it on to your old friends.

Up to now only nineteen members of the Class have sent in their contributions to the Alumni Fund. The time is getting short, so if possible, no matter how small your contribution, please try to get it in so that we can have as nearly 100% of the Class contributing to the FUND as possible. The Alumni Association will certainly appreciate your effort and generosity.

'24 ANTHONY E. LeBLANC
45 Maynard St., Arlington

Congratulations to the members of the class who celebrated the 30th anniversary of their ordination to the priesthood — "Ad Multos Annos."

FRANK KILCOYNE, dean of Brooklyn College received the gold medal for distinguished Catholic Activity in the diocese of Brooklyn in January of this year.

CHARLIE SMITH's son, Edward C. was elected captain of the Hockey Team for the coming season.

At the Class Communion Breakfast on April 15th there were thirty-three members in attendance.

We regret the passing of one of our classmates, REV. GEORGE W. CORCORAN who died March 19th. May he rest in peace. The customary spiritual bouquet was sent by the Class to the family.

Don't forget our fellow classmate, WALTER J. E. CARROLL, M.D. is running for Graduate Board in June of this year.

'25 EDWARD J. O'LEARY
22 Bailey Rd., Arlington 74

NEIL O'KEEFE passed away March 14. To his widow, Frances, and his son Rev. Neil O'Keefe, S.J. of Weston College, are extended the most sincere condolences of the classmates of this real gentleman and fine school teacher. Neil was buried from a High Mass of Requiem in St. Joseph's Church, Belmont on March 17. Celebrant of the Mass was the deceased brother, Fr. Leo O'Keefe of Campion Hall Retreat House, well known to scores of classmates for his wonderful efforts as retreat master at Campion Hall and the Catholic Alumni Sodality.

Several years ago ANTHONY JULIAN was honored by the late Pope Pius XII who elevated him to the Knighthood of St. Gregory. This was fittingly observed by scores of classmates who feted Anthony at a dinner at the Commonwealth Country Club. Recently our distinguished United States Attorney was nominated by President Eisenhower to a judgeship in the Federal Court in Boston. Press time preceded confirmation by the United States Senate, but our knowledge of the admirable qualifications of this outstanding barrister permits our sincere if preemptory congratulations.

DAN LYNCH (the red one with a query as to the color of remaining hair) is the new president of the Charitable Irish Society. Dan was elected at the 222nd annual meeting of one of Boston's oldest, distinguished and venerated societies. The Boston Globe on March 22 gave two full columns to the career of our classmate who is currently distinguishing himself as Clerk of the Boston Municipal Court.

The Gold Key, the campus' honorary fraternity, exercised exemplary discernment in their selection of officers for the coming year—JIM REILLY is the new president and AL HYLAND is the incoming treasurer. Sons, of course, of our classmates.

GENE GIROUX, in spite of the fact that he is the president elect of an international organization whose annual convention will be held in Boston this Fall, is still striking telling blows for the Alumni Fund and will welcome sincerely those contributions particularly from members of the class who have not as yet contributed. Gene wants every member to be a part of this campaign and rightly so, for Gene feels that not only will our college benefit, regardless of how modest the contribution, but that the contribution might well activate more class participation in all events of '25.

'26 WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM
40 Tennyson St., West Roxbury

Has anyone else noticed that we no longer have to turn way back in the Notes of the Classes to pick up 1926? Must ask someone the reason for that; why should they keep moving us up toward the front of the book?

Had the tremendous pleasure in April of meeting FR. PHIL KIELY, S.J., in Montego Bay, Jamaica, as Rose and I spent a vacation there. He's been on the island for 18 years, the last 4 at Montego Bay—a lovely spot, by the way. Fr. Phil has charge of 3 parishes and has a handsome new church 90% completed. Spent a few hours reminiscing; Fr. was from Lynn way.

DR. FRANK GOLDEN is assisting in the Alumni Fund drive in his area; his boy Bruce is a junior in A&S. Heard late in March from DR. GEORGE GOVATOS, practicing down in Baltimore; he's well and looks forward to seeing some of us in June at Alumni Day. Hope you men are taking care of your gift or pledge to the Fund; a trip to the Heights more than impresses these days.

Got out to the Varsity-Alumni scrimmage game. Only one I saw was HEN GRODEN—his boy's a junior at B.C. High. Got stuck with stake-holding at the game, without stakes, for the first period; real fun. So busy I saw no football.

CAPT. TOM HERLIHY, USN, lost his wife in April; they had been in Washington, with Tom assigned to the Naval Gun Factory. He expects to be reassigned shortly to this area. We extend our sympathy to Tom in his loss. Was talking to CHARLIE SCHROEDER recently, mostly about another little outing this spring. Told me that at Mass at St. Bonaventure's in Manomet he met pastor FR. JERRY O'NEIL. Let me go back a bit, now. We missed reporting to you that MSGR. MATT STAPLETON, rector of St. John's Seminary, was awarded a citation as an outstanding biblical scholar, recently.

At the annual dinner, it was great to see FR. EDDIE DONOVAN, O.M.I., the former great B.C. High basketball player, who has been for 22 years with mission band for the Oblates, and who is now working with neuro-psychiatric patients at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital. Cambridge FRANK CASEY made the dinner; he recently lost his mother. Our honorary classmate, FR. MARTIN PAT HARNEY has been elected president of his class of 1919. FRANK CARNEY gave us a word at the dinner, too. He also made the European trip last year with the Cardinal. Remember LEON VINCENT, the tall one? He has written several texts on Biology and other pre-medical subjects; still lectures at the College. Young Art Gorman is a soph at B.C. TOM HALPIN's boy is at Harvard Medical. BILL JIM DUNN looks well, too. Both his daughters, Claire and Celia, are at Quincy City Hospital as nurses. And here's a case of two classmates cooperating. AL KEENAN's daughter Mary is married to MAURICE HART's boy, Mark; understand they are living in New York.

At the B.U. hockey game, chatted with TOM CAV and wife Fran, BIG ED MULLOWNEY and bigger than ever FR. JERRY FOLEY. And at Laetare Sunday at McHugh Forum, we had DR. ART GORMAN, DR. BOB O'DOHERTY, CHARLIE O'MALLEY, FRANKIE COLBERT, PETER McDERMOTT, FRANK "JAKE" SMITH, CHARLIE SCHROEDER, JOHN DOOLEY, PAT SULLIVAN et ego. Dool, by the way, has switched golf allegiance from Scituate to Wollaston Golf Club.

If we don't see you at the annual outing, we'll see you, God willing, at Alumni Day. Maybe, for a change, ED PELLEGRINI can arrange a win for us; am I sick of losing that game, year after year! Be seeing you. Don't forget sending a check to the Alumni Fund.

'27 JOHN J. BUCKLEY
20 Dell Ave., Hyde Park

On April 9, JOHN W. COMBER, Superior General of Maryknoll, was consecrated bishop in a ritual at Maryknoll, New York, attended by 250 prelates, priests, and religious. Bishop Comber was named Titular Bishop of Foratiana, a defunct diocese in Tunisia. Present at the impressive ceremony were REV. JOHN BOWEN, JOHN COSTELLO, and FRANK HURLEY. The following Saturday, April 11, Bishop Comber celebrated a Solemn High Mass at St. Mary's Church, Lawrence. The following men attended this Mass and later spent a most pleasant half-hour with the newly consecrated bishop renewing friendships of college days: FRANCIS X. SULLIVAN, JOHN COSTELLO, REV. JAMES GEARY, S.J., ROBERT SULLIVAN, DR. TIMOTHY LYONS, and DR. DANIEL O'LEARY. Needless to say, the members of the Class of 1927 are proud of their classmate, Bishop Comber, the latest of a long line of distinguished Boston College men to be elevated to the episcopal rank.

Members of the Class of 1927 are requested to pray for the soul of classmate, EDWARD J. SCOLLINS, who died on Feb. 23, 1959. For twenty-five years Ed was a Master at the South Boston High School.

REV. DANIEL J. LINEHAN, S.J., received the Navy Distinguished Public Service Award at the Parker House on Jan. 20. Fr. Linehan, who worked with the Navy Task Force 43 and the Operation Deepfreeze in the Antarctic, was cited for achievements which "reflected great credit and prestige upon the United States."

The prayers of our classmates are requested for the soul of the mother of JOE INGOLDSBY. Mrs. Ingolsby passed away on March 25.

The class extends congratulations to WILLIAM H. OHRENBERGHER, JR., who passed the April bar exam.

JOE MCKENNEY was the recipient of the National Honor Award of the Eastern District Association of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation on April 22 at the organization's 40th annual luncheon at the Ambassador Hotel, Atlantic City, N.J. The citation referred to Joe's excellent work as Director of Physical Education in the Boston Public Schools and to his outstanding contributions to the national organization, with special mention of his capable and expert management of conventions.

The next class event will be the Annual May Communion Breakfast. JOE MCKENNEY is chairman and an excellent program is promised.

BE GENEROUS TO THE ALUMNI LOYALTY FUND.

The 31st Reunion was held Thursday evening, March 21, 1959 at the University Club, Boston, Mass. Chairman JOHN "SNOOKS" KELLEY and the following committee, headed up the affair. SMOKEY KELLEHER, GENE PLOCIENICK, JACK DOHERTY, JIM DUFFY, PAT TOMPKINS, HON. FRED McMENIMEN, DICK CONDON, TOM O'BRIEN, DR. ART SHINNEY, ED O'BRIEN. Meet the "Coaches" Nite was the feature of the evening. Coach MIKE HOLOVAK, TINO MARTIN, ED PELLEGRINI, GILLIGAN, BILL FLYNN, Director of Athletics, and Father Shea, S.J., Moderator. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

Mr. and Mrs. RICHARD J. CONDON of West Roxbury, announce the engagement of their daughter Kathleen, "Kathy", to PAUL JOSEPH O'LEARY of Milton. Miss Condon attended Boston College and Mr. O'Leary graduated in 1957. October 10 is the wedding date.

REV. ELIAS A. MEALEY was promoted pastor of St. John's Parish, Townsend, recently being transferred from St. James' Parish, Salem. Congratulations.

Expressions of sympathy were extended to our classmates "CHANCEY" MULLEN on the death of his mother, also to AL GIROUX on the death of his father. At this writing the death of DAN DRISCOLL'S mother was announced. May their souls rest in peace.

REV. JOHN E. KENNEY, commemorated his 25th anniversary of his Ordination on Sunday, May 17th, at 11 o'clock Mass at St. Paul's Church, Cambridge, Mass. The reception was held at the Hotel Continental, Cambridge.

Friday, June 5th, is Alumni Day. Make plans to attend, just like another reunion. Have you contributed to the Alumni Fund? Now that the tax deadline is past, dig up a few bucks and send it in. The agents of the class will be contacting you soon.

Congratulations to my new Pastor, Monsignor JAMES DOYLE, Class of '22. St. Peter's Church, Dorchester, Mass.

P.S. Drop me a line on the activities of your grown up children, marriages, births, etc. (O.K. Dooley.) Most of the notes are picked up by me in passing.

'29 GEORGE DONALDSON
30 Blackman Rd., Canton

President FRANK CADIGAN was unanimously reelected to continue the great job he has done to make our 30th year active and memorable. It was a very legal process, ballots and a box with BARR DOLAN and LARRY FENNELL in charge. When the box was opened Frank had every vote but his own. JOE BIRMINGHAM was elected Treasurer and — financial was added to the secretary's ship.

The election was started at the fine buffet supper catered by CHARLIE McCANN and FRANK CADIGAN at the Philomatheia Club in the late winter after our Feb. 23 meeting was snowed out. It was completed at the April 25th supper dance at Alumni hall sponsored by 29 wives and chaired by Gen Donaldson. The supper dance was enjoyed by everyone. JIM and Alice RILEY, BOB and Marion BUCK lead and accompanied the group singing. Alice CADIGAN baked a big pink 30th birthday cake.

Our next event—JOE BIRMINGHAM and his committee are planning the family picnic at Lake Cochituate on May 17. Bigger than last October with special events for the youngsters we are sure you will all enjoy it. JOE and Mary CAVANOGH will come again by sea.

Seen and heard:

FATHER FRED HOBBS doing a great job at St. Zepherins' Cochituate.

FATHER PAUL McMANUS regaining his old pep.

Mrs. AL DOWD (29's banner) 29's Betsy Ross made a big gold and maroon '29 banner for Alumni Day parade and get-together. Louise LaFay to become June bride to GENE MCCARTHY, a new son-in-law—Richard Slein.

JACK FLYNN's daughter drama festival prize winner.

Peg BIRMINGHAM dean's list — Boston College School of Ed.

Dianne DOWD, Freshman at Emmanuel.

Joanne STUART, Newton College Junior—Rosemary STUART teaching in Dedham.

Maureen CORKERY at B.C. School of Nursing.

Mary FENNELL graduating from B.C. School of Nursing.

FATHER JOHN CUNNINGHAM on Mission to mid-America.

JOHN "COB" MURRAY in Oklahoma with Agriculture Dept.

Remember — Alumni Day — our 30th Anniversary gift to Alumni Fund, lets make both unanimous.

As for Alumni Day, Lloyd Carnegie hopes to make it from Overland Park, Kansas. We hope that those farther and nearer will come too.

'30 JOHN F. DWYER
45 Belvoir Rd., Milton

FRED MEAGHER of the Class of '25 met REV. NEIL DONAHUE, S.J. on a visit to Jamaica, B.W.I. Father Neil conveyed his greetings through Fred to the men of '30.

Reverend JAMES B. MURPHY, chaplain of the U. S. Army, was awarded the First Army certificate of achievement for "his marked proficiency and leadership ability."

JOHN E. HURLEY has recovered from a bothersome eye condition.

We regret to report the death of our classmate, Attorney FRANCIS T. SULLIVAN who died May 11. Condolences of the class have been sent to his wife, Claire. Please remember Frank in your prayers.

Dr. BILL SULLIVAN presided at the annual St. Luke's Guild dinner and has been busy as chairman of the 25th Anniversary Class of Tufts Medical College.

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN HAVERTY and Mr. and Mrs. JOHN DWYER attended the installation of Bishop JOHN J. WRIGHT as Bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese at Pittsburgh on March 18th. Participating in the ceremonies was Very Rev. DONALD A. McGOWAN.

JOHN W. HAVERTY, our diligent class agent, has been nominated as candidate for the Graduate board of athletics.

JIM REAGAN is secretary of the Belmont Little League and coach of the Cardinals. Jay Reagan is a freshman at Boston College High School. Miss Elizabeth Reagan having completed her postulant year has donned the habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph and is now Sister Mary Raymondine.

Miss Lee O'Connor, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. WILLIAM O'CONNOR of Belmont is a junior at the College of the Sacred Heart in Newton and is studying physics in a course at Boston College.

Reverend EDWARD S. GALVIN, former chaplain at the West Roxbury and Jamaica Plain Veterans Administration hospitals, has commenced a new assignment as curate at St. Joseph's in Lynn.

The Reverend JOSEPH C. CANTY has been promoted to chief of chaplains at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Rev. JOSEPH GOUGH is now chaplain at the Brockton Veterans Administration hospital.

The Class of '30 is among the leaders by report of JOHN HAVERTY, Class Agent. However there are still some who have not forwarded a contribution to the Alumni Loyalty Fund. We are aiming for 100% participation so your contribution, whatever the amount, will be welcome.

It will be the "Thirtieth for Thirty in Sixty" so let's have a good turnout on Alumni Day when we can outline our activities for 1960.

About seventy attended the annual

Supper-Dance of the class at St. Sebastian's on April 25th. We continue to enjoy MONSIGNOR CHARLIE's hospitality. Kudos to the committee — AL FITZGERALD, TED CASS and PAUL LAJOIE — for their usual fine job. Al continues to amaze us by his ability to cut back the years and to dance with such spirit while the rest of us are sagging!

And if you don't think time is marching on, read on: TED CASS's son is at Northeastern; JACK LENNON's daughter is an RN at Faulkner; FRANK JOHNSON's son is at BC; so is PETE SANFORD's; and ED BUTTERS' too. JACK GREENE's daughter Margaret commences nurses' training at St. Elizabeth's in September. DICK RYAN's son will be at BC in the Fall.

FR. GUS KEANE, S.J., officiated at the marriage of PAUL and Alice LAJOIE twenty-five years ago; he was at the wedding of their daughter Warren to HUGH MULLIGAN on April 4th. And the next time you see Paul he will fill you in on a lot of other details!

JIM COVENEY, having recovered from a nasty accident, is now with Homes, Inc.

The Class is pulling for HARRY SHEEHE who has been quite ill.

TOM DOLAN and JACK LENNON are principal and vice principal respectively of the Edwards School in Charlestown. ED BUTTERS is a guidance counsellor at English High School. BILL CAREY is director of secondary education in Natick.

FR. ERNIE PEARSALL is at St. Theresa's in West Roxbury. FR. TOM GRIFFIN is building a church in Erie, Pa.

BOB GLENNON, chairman of the Silver Jubilee Year announces the following events for our 25th Alumni week activities:

Wednesday, June 3—Outing and dance at Scituate Harbor Yacht Club—adults only. Chairman of this event is GEORGE McLAUGHLIN.

Friday, June 5 — Alumni Day—full day's activities at the Heights — chairman, LOU MESSINA.

Saturday, June 6—Family outing and clambake, Alumni Field. Chairman, JUDGE CHARLES ARTESANI.

Sunday, June 7—Family Communion breakfast at the Heights following Baccalaureate Mass.

Monday, June 8—Commencement Day —Class is invited to parade in academic attire.

Chairman GLENNON also has issued the final call on contributions to the 25th Anniversary Class gift and the redeeming of pledges heretofore made towards the gift. With a little extra effort which is needed at this time the class will be assured a gift greater than any previous graduating class in the history of the college.

Sixty members of the class attended a special Mass at the Diocesan TV studio on Sunday, April 19, as guests of FATHER WALTER FLAHERTY, Diocesan TV Director. FATHER JOHN A. SAUNDERS of St. Agatha's Church in Milton was the celebrant of the Mass.

The dinner dance at Woodland Country Club in early April under the chairmanship of DR. JOHN MCGILLICUDDY was highly successful. Sixty-five couples attended.

Welcome traveler! A special reward for effort is hereby given to JOE ORLOSKI, Seattle, who flew to Boston to attend the reunion fund-raising dinner which was held at Alumni Hall on March 8th. Among the out of town classmates who have attended some of the anniversary meetings are HENRY NICHOLSON of Washington, D. C.; LEO HOGAN, Manchester, New Hampshire, BILL O'DONNELL of Hartford and JOHN FREITAS of White River Junction.

JERRY O'CONNOR, John Hancock Insurance Company VP, is chairman of housing and will make suitable arrangements for all out of town classmates who are planning to come to Boston with or without their families during Alumni Week.

LOU MUSCO of West Roxbury has been appointed by Governor Furcolo as Commissioner of the State Housing Board.

HERB KENNEY has had many requests for his 'Sonnets on the Virgin Mary,' reviewed in the last issue of Alumni News. The Sonnets may be purchased from the Cricket Press in Manchester, Mass.—price: $1.50.

CHARLIE CARLIN, coach of the Peabody High School hockey team for the past twelve years, was chosen "Man of the Year in Peabody" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

FATHER CLARENCE BOUCHER has assumed his new duties as curate at Saint Mary's in Marlboro.

The peer of fund raisers, JOHN GRIFFIN, has been upped in rank by the Metropolitan Coal and Oil Company, his chief base of operations now being in Boston.

ANDY MURPHY is a low handicap chopper at Wollaston Golf Club, but you'd never know it listening to him wail during the first tee match-making ringdango.

BILL MCCARTHY of Dedham is represented in the March issue of "The Instructor," popular teachers' magazine. Bill is the author of a play entitled "A Leprechaun Teaches Street Safety."

Hope to see you all on the campus on Alumni Day. It's our turn during the following year to prove that 1935 is the best of all 25th anniversary classes to date. Whether it's work or fun is up to us. Let's all work hard and make it fun!

Congratulations to PHIL TRACY on his recent appointment as a Judge in Roxbury District Court. FATHER JOHN MAGUIRE has been transferred, as Assistant Pastor, to St. Angela's Church in Mattapan.

The Class Dinner in April was well attended. At the dinner a committee of three was appointed to meet with FATHER FLEMING of the College to discuss plans for our 25th Anniversary gift — the Committee: President BOB O'HARE, SID DUNN and BRENT GORDON.

In addition to the above the following were at the Dinner: MONS. LARRY RILEY, MONS. SPEED CARROLL, FATHER JOHN FLAVIN, FATHER JERRY KINSELLA, JOCKO KILLION, JOE CLOUGHERTY, CHRIS IANNELLA, TIM READY, GEORGE MAHONEY, AL FULCHINO, JACK McLAUGHLIN, GERRY BURKE, FRANK MCCARTHY, DAN SHEA, JOE O'BRIEN, GEORGE MIACCO, JOE COSGROVE, VIN ESPOSITO, AL BURGOYNE, and AL JESSILONIS.

CORNELIUS W. OWENS was elected Vice President in charge of Personnel of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company by its Board of Directors at a meeting held in February.

This is the first opportunity we have had to report on our annual class banquet held in March at Alumni Hall. Joining with fifty members of the class were Father Michael P. Walsh, S.J., Dr. Chris Duncan, Alumni President, John Griffin, Fund Chairman and Wally Boudreau, Alumni Secretary. Father Frank Sullivan was out of town at the time and unable to attend. Class president JIM O'HARE opened the meeting and read DR. PETER MAFFEO's letter from New Hampshire, sending his regrets for not being able to attend. Jim also asked for suggestions as to when, where and how future selections of class officers should be held. He also read a letter from DR. ED RYAN, stating his willingness to cooperate in our fund drive. We also heard from DR. BILL CLIFFORD from Florida, CHARLIE DONELAN from Maryland, COL. JOHN "JUNIE" KING from Virginia, DAN BARRY, Manager of the Poland Springs House in Maine and Father AL GIBBONS now stationed in California.

Dr. Duncan said that he felt very close to our class for DR. DICK STANTON'S just nominating him for office in the Alumni Association. Since then he has advanced to his present position as president. In the absence of JOHN DROMEY, whose brother had passed away, FRANK HUNT took over to explain the operation of our fund drive. DR. DICK STANTON will head up the group of doctors and dentists, JACK GATELY (Cambridge) will take care of the Special Gifts Section, MONSIGNOR SEXTON, the clergy and TOM TRUE, the "scattered" alumni. Locally, the class will be divided in districts — TOM BUCKLEY will handle district I, BOB O'CONNELL, district II, TONY DINATALE, district III, and FRANK HUNT, district IV.

Father Walsh spoke, explaining some of the interesting side lights in regard to the present operation of the college, as well as future plans for a school of nursing, a student-faculty center and a new library building. He also outlined the present plans for the centenary celebration of which we, as the 25th anniversary class, will be an important part. We may have missed a few but among those of the class present, we saw JERRY JONES, DR. GEORGE McCORMACK, JIM O'HARE, AL KELEHER, DR. DICK STANTON, PAUL MULKERN, DR. JOSEPH (BENNY) CONNOLLY, JIM DOHERTY, JACK (Cambridge) GATELY, TOM TRUE, FATHER JOHN McLAUGHLIN, now stationed in Plymouth, JIM DAILEY, MONSIGNOR FRANK SEXTON, Vice-Chancellor, FATHER JOHN McMANMON, Treasurer, and FATHER BOB MURRAY, Spiritual Advisor, all three from the seminary at Lake Street. COMMANDER FRANK McMAHON, U.S.N., FATHER JERRY O'CALLAGHAN, S.J. down from Weston, JOE SHEEHAN, JOHN MANNIX, CHARLIE BIRMINGHAM, JACK FITZGERALD, BOB CURTIS, FRANK TOOMEY, JOHN CASTELLI, TOM FEELEY, FRANK MACKEY, TOM COSGROVE, FRANK GLYNN, CHARLIE CALLAHAN, BILL FINAN, JIM MCCARTHY, BILL GORMAN, an executive with American Airlines (why fly Northeast), DR. JOHN SHAW, JOE DOWNS, BILL PRIOR, JOE HARTIGAN, JIM CASEY, FRANK HUNT, BILL GANNON, BOB O'CONNELL, a traitor—purchasing agent for Boston University, JOE POWERS, ED FERRARI and JIM CAHILL.

Returning from the Pike Peak Club (Hockey) Dinner we saw JOHN JANUSAS, BUD DAVIS, JOE HARTIGAN and JOE POWERS.

The class of 1938 was very much in evidence at a recent testimonial dinner for CAPTAIN FRANK RYAN of the MDC Police. JOHN MANNIX and JOE POWERS were active on the committee. FATHER JERRY sat at the head table and said Grace. We also met ED CADY, DR. GEORGE McCORMACK, TONY DINITALI, VIN SHAMIRIAN, "RED" PRIOR, JOE HARTIGAN, JIM O'HARE, FRANK GLYNN and JOHN (Norwood) MURPHY. With all of the tributes that were paid to Frank, it was a very pleasant evening for those of us from '38.

See you all Alumni Day.

Minute but meaty are the dispatches of this issue, liberally laced with tid-bits from exotic places like Ho-Ho-Kus, Shohola, Waco and way stations.

For a supposedly settled segment of society some social service folk certainly seem to range far afield. HERB ROONEY, for example, is Chief Psychiatric Social Worker at the Mental Health Study Center, Langley Park, Maryland. The Center is a field station of the National Institute of Mental Health, a most important activity of the U. S. Public Health Service. Three youngsters, Janice, Bob and Brian round out the Rooney household. Herb still maintains his active interest and participation in amateur theatre.

From thence SSW by ½S to Waco, Texas, where JOHN A. MOLLOY finally lit after intermediate professional stops at Bedford (Mass.) VA Hospital and director of Child Guidance Clinic in Durham, N. C. John is now Executive Director of The Council For Social Welfare in Waco. He, his wife Lynda, and the seven lesser Molloyes expect to visit Boston later this summer.

On the West Coast ED. C. FOLEY is with the Catholic Children's Services, Seattle, Washington, phone MAIn 3-9065. One of his assignments as Administrative Assistant of this Diocesan agency is recruiting trained social workers to work with his group in a "—most fabulous part of these US of A." We like to help fellow Thirty-Niners, hence the phone number above. FR. JOHN V. DRISCOLL please take note. Ed tells us there are three younger Foleys, Dennis, Ann, and Ellen, ages 6, 4, and 3.

Much of the hubbub in Ho-Ho-Kus (N.J.) stems from Little League and Pony League performances to which LARRY SPILLANE, long-time member of the town's Youth Activities Committee, devotes his free time as manager and coach. Larry is Senior Resident Agent with the FBI in New York City and plans to visit Boston before too long with his wife Jeanne and their three youngsters. It is compulsion or complete coincidence that accounts for the new kidney-shaped pool which DR. JOHN A. PETKUS added to his backyard in Shohola, Penna., to the delight of his three girls and two boys? John is in general practice in his rural Delaware River community, and is also anaesthetist for the Callicoon Hospital across the river in New York.

Other Thirty-Niners active out of state are FRANK J. COSTELLO of the New Hampshire Club and HERB CHERNACK of the Chicago BC Club. Herb is the first to make a definite commitment for our 25th reunion in 1964. He is really agile in the industrial coating field in which he represents American-Marietta, as well as the commercial and related chemical lines wherein he wears the hats of four additional companies. His eye for news, sharpened by experience as Public Relations Officer promoting the St. Lawrence Seaway for the Corps of Engineers after the war, prompts him to report that JIM MacGUIRE is Vice-Pres. with Automatic Canteen Co. As an added fillip—and we haven't had a fillip in a long time—Herb advises that SIG SOMY, still in the swim with Jantzen, has been transferred to Chicago.

Miami office manager of International Insurance Agency, Inc., of Boston and owner of his own agency in Coral Gables, Florida is GEORGE FARRELL. This would seem a logical enterprise for George, even if he does it only to guarantee the most complete and comprehensive coverage on the golf trophies he began collecting at The Heights. It runs in the family, 'twould seem, and includes son, and daughter Ginny. George and his wife, Peggy, won the last Mr. & Mrs. Tournament at the Riviera Country Club. Then he teamed with Trip to take the Father & Son Tourney there also. On the solo side, he recently won the first day at a Calcutta Tournament in Nassau. George allows as how he will be very happy to hear from Old Classmates passing through his corner of the Sunshine State.

As these notes go to the Alumni News (Late, as usual) we learn that DR. JOHN DONOVAN this morning delivered a stimulating address, "The Sociology of Religion" at the Annual Communion Breakfast of the BC School of Social Work Alumni.

Minding the store at home is BILL GLENNON of Graybar Electric Co., Inc., for whom he is New England District Operating Manager, and responsible for personnel, investment and expense. Star salesman FR. AL PALLODINO was Chairman of the remarkably successful $100 a plate Carnival sponsored by prominent Greater Boston Italo-Americans for Cardinal Cushing's Charity Fund. We note that FR. JOHN W. MORRISSEY is now at St. Colman's in Brockton and will be happy to hear from any of us in, or passing through, the area.

That's all for the nonce. Hope we saw you at our 20th Anniversary Dance. Hope we see you on our 20th Alumni Day!

The Class held its annual reunion on April 11th at Alumni Hall with about twenty members attending. Fred Murphy and Charlie Savage were among the few new faces this year. Father McManus brought us up to date on the "goings on" at the campus and the future plans for the fast growing Business School. Dr. John J. Brennan, as Treasurer of the Alumni Ass'n, explained the future fund drive plans to the class.

"Well Done," to John Connery as his term as Class President comes to an end and "Good Luck" to our newly elected President, Ed McCormack. Yours truly was elected (?) Secretary for the next year and Arthur Curry and Ambie Claus are still listed as Co-Treasurers (until an audit of our bank account has been completed).

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Browne on their new baby boy. Three girls and a first son was good enough reason for Ned to miss our dinner gathering.

News notes would be most welcomed by your new correspondent, so let's have a phone call from you and share any good news you may have with your classmates.

On Sunday, May 31, 1959 the Mission Hill Post will sponsor its Fourteenth Annual Memorial Mass and Communion Breakfast. Mass will be celebrated at the famed Mission Church, Roxbury at 9 a.m. After Mass three local squares will be named for three Mission Hill boys who paid the supreme sacrifice during W.W. II. One of these, LEO J. MURPHY, was a Boston College graduate, in 1942. He was killed in action in Alsace, France, in 1945 while serving with the Infantry as a staff sergeant.

SYLVESTER SCANLAN, a parole officer for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was married recently in Saugus to the former Virginia Russo. They will reside in Saugus.

At a meeting of the Alpha Sigma Nu Society, the following officers were elected: Joseph Stanton—President, Bill Cadigan—Vice President and Bill Connolly—Treasurer.

The condolences of the class are extended to JIM COLLINS on the recent death of his father.

NED MARTIN is reported to be pro-Little League now with the recent birth of a son.

BUCKEY HARRIS is now employed by Zurbach Steel.

The B.C. invitation game at Troy, N.Y. saw '42 well represented by JIM STANTON, PHIL GILL, ERNIE HANDY, DICK STILES, TOM LANE, and your correspondent P. J. M.

A letter from JIM MALONE informs us that he is now in Normal, Illinois, employed as Director of Personnel for General Telephone of Illinois. Jim was recently in town for the death of his father. One of Jim's 5 children, Christian Bernard was born on Christmas Day. Jim is looking forward to hearing from any of the boys out that way.

REV. KENNETH MURPHY has been recently appointed President of Rescue, Inc., by the Cardinal and already has received most favorable publicity in the papers. We all wish him every success.

TOM LANE was recently awarded the Pro Deo et Juventute Medal, a National Catholic award to lay adults who have worked with and for youth.

ROBERT JAURON was recently signed as head coach of the Kitchener Dutchmen, a Canadian professional team. Two hundred alumni of Saint Joseph's College, Collegeville, Indiana honored Bob at a testimonial held in Chicago recently.

FRANCIS X. GANNON is a Consultant in the Administration & Finance Dept. Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

NICHOLAS C. PALUMBO
6 MacArthur St., Somerville

Hard at work for the Alumni Fund are TOM CARROLL, agent for the Mid-West and West, BILL MELVILLE for Conn., New York and points South, and BERNIE TRAVERS, PAUL WATERS, ED McMORROW and CHARLIE McCREADY all for Mass. Each member of our class has been assigned to one of these Agents and has been or will be contacted by his Agent. If you give promptly it cuts down on your Agent's work, so give now and give generously. We're hoping for 100% participation. You'll get a full report in the next issue of the Alumni News of how we did. We hope you're among the ones who gave.

JACK HART has been named one of the four "Outstanding Young Men of Mass." by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is the former President of the Lawrence Exchange Club and Deputy Grand Knight of the K. of C.

Another of our few remaining bachelors, BILL CURLEY has joined the married ranks. Bill was married Dec. 27th to Ann Perry, sister of FRANK PERRY, who served as an usher.

MIKE DECESARE was recently in Rome for the ordination of his brother.

CONNIE SULLIVAN has moved to Maine for the Travelers Insurance Co.

March 17th is a great day for the Irish and particularly for PAUL WATERS because Paul Waters, Jr. was born on that day. Shouldn't he have been nicknamed "Pat"?

WALTER AVERY is with Plymouth Rubber Company doing Time and Motion work.

Long missing from our files was TOM MENTEN, who has been discovered working for Swift & Company in New York. Now still missing is WALTER McLAUGHLIN. We've tried every way to locate him, but no luck. Anyone having a clue, write to me.

The sympathy of the class is extended to BILL MANNIX on the death of his father. Bill manages the package store which is noted for the best looking window displays in the liquor industry.

FRANCIS X. J. DONELAN, has been named Assistant to the President of the S. Stroock & Co., Inc.

FRANK DONELAN has been with the S. Stroock & Co. Inc., of New York for the past 12 years. Just recently Frank was named assistant to the President of the company and will assist in a sales capacity. Formerly he was associated with Forte, Dupee Sawyer Co. in Boston.

JOHN BEST, our class prexy has been awarded a National Science Foundation Fellowship for graduate study at Brown University, Providence. He will attend Brown this Summer and do graduate work in astronomy and chemistry. John has been connected with the Boston Public Schools since 1950 and currently he is teaching chemistry at Jamaica Plain High School.

NICK PALUMBO, your class reporter has set the date to be married to Miss Patricia Glennon of South Dartmouth, Mass. on Saturday, June 20th at St. Mary's Church of the same town. The wedding will be at 11 A.M. Miss Glennon is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy in Fairhaven and Jeanne D'Arc Academy in Milton. Miss Glennon is currently associated with the Daniel Sullivan Advertising Agency of Boston. This couple will honeymoon in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The Rev. Robert F. Regan, S.J.
To be ordained at Weston College by Cardinal Cushing on June 13, 1959.

SHERMAN KRITZER has been associated with the Raytheon Co. of Waltham for the past 10 years doing chemical research with the Co. Sherm is a member of the Chemical Society and he resides in the South Shore.

N.B.: I'd like to urge any graduate of our class of '48 A&S to please drop me a card or letter telling me of their activities and whereabouts. Please address your bulletins to Jerome O'Leary Advertising Agency, 9 Newbury Street, Boston. c/o Nick Palumbo.

JOHN McQUILLAN recently returned from a business trip to Europe for the Atkinson Shoe Company. John reminds us all nicely that 1 buck from each member will help our aching class treasury.

Congratulations to JIM McLAUGHLIN, recently promoted to Assistant treasurer at the Newton-Waltham Bank.

DR. JOHN WALSH is Assistant Dean at the Boston College School of Education.

Drop us a line and let your classmates know where you are and what you are doing. Plan to get over to the Heights on Alumni Day for our 10th reunion this year. Big events have been planned for our class. Be sure to contribute to the Alumni Fund before that date.

At a meeting in December of our Class Officers and Board of Directors, the following committees were set up:

A Committee chairmaned by DAVE BRISSETTE was formed to collect class dues each year. First returns indicate 125 have paid their dues. The treasury is looking for the other 500.

A Tenth Reunion Committee was appointed to plan an affair some time in June. JACK EMMONS and DR. JOE GILLIS will be in charge of this.

Seen at the recent NCAA Hockey Play-Offs in Troy were BILL HARNEY and BILL MURDOCK.

JACK McQUILLAN has just returned from his fourth business trip to Europe. Jack works for the John Atkinson Shoe Corporation and is living in Needham.

Our class was well-represented at the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast. Among those present were BOB SCHOENFELD, EDWARD MURPHY, JOHN COFFEY, RICHARD DALTON, WALTER MADDEN, BERT HANWELL, LESTER GALLAGHER, LARRY GRIFFIN, JOE WYLIE, BILL HARNEY, BOB BIDWELL, DR. JOE GILLIS, ED GRANT, JOHN CARNEY, JACK McQUILLAN, and BOB CRANE.

For your advance planning, you might want to keep in mind that after the B.C. vs. H.C. game next fall, our Class will have another get-together.

Our news items seem to be decreasing, so how about dropping one of your Class Correspondents a card letting him know of marriages, births, promotions, travel, etc.

We'd love to hear from and of more of you, where you are, what you are doing, any family, service connections and duty served. That's what this column is for so don't be bashful about it. . . drop us a line and let your old classmates know you're still alive. JIM WATERS lending a hand to FRED MAURIELLO and MIKE TARICANO with this bit, as both Fred and Mike are away from Boston at present. Fred working in upstate New York and Mike over in Milan, Italy, with his family for two years. Mike has opened up and is in charge of Burroughs' office for Southern Europe. Went to a class agents' meeting last month and met many old friends. Among them former track captain, Captain IRV HOWE, USA, making the army a career and stationed at Camp Devens with Artillery unit; LLOYD McDONALD, class supervisor for the Alumni Fund and doing a great job and his running mates at New England Mutual Life BOB KALER and JACK DUTTON. Both Lloyd and Bob have four children each; JOE GOODE, CBA class supervisor, married with one boy and working for U. S. Electric Motors Inc. as a field engineer. Any CBA man can contact Joe at his home, 39 Brigham Road, Waltham. Joe and Lloyd can use all the help they can get as ours was the largest class ever graduated. And don't worry, the work is spread thin by their able administration; VIN STANTON was there, too, now with LOOMIS SAYLES Investment Counsel, Boston, and recently a father for the third time, his first girl. Also, IRV KANE, a lawyer now and just recently appointed First Assistant Register of Probate for Essex County. Irv has worked up from third assistant since graduating from B.C. Law He and CBA stalwart and Senior Class Treasurer JOE O'SHEA still unattached and very eligible. Joe still with John Atkinson Shoe Corp. and travelling New England.

Heard from JACK MOYLAN a few months ago. Now a special agent for Agricultural and Empire State Insurance Companies at 141 Milk St., Boston. Jack is married to the former Marie Mullen of Newton and they are proud parents of four children.

Saw Portia Law Graduates JOHN SVAGDZYS and MIKE PIZZIFERRI at the meeting. John with three children, still living in Brockton and with National Shawmut. Mike with John Hancock Group Annuity Dept. and father of two. Still active in the Marine Reserve and expects his majority soon.

Mostly from memory — DOCTOR AL ALLAIRE practicing dentistry in Brockton; LEN CEGLARSKI coaching hockey at Clarkson and giving his old mentor a bad time on the ice; Captain JACK CONNELLY a pediatrician with the Air Force and stationed at Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio; ED QUIRK and FRANK MESMER occasional golfers at Woodland; and speaking of golf, Brighton's PAUL KELLY now married to former Grace Courtney and living in Quincy. Paul graduated from B.C. Law School, '58 and now with Hardware Mutual Legal Dept. Along with him in the '58 evening division at the Law School were DICK FOUNTAIN Norwood's TOM CURRAN, and JIM WATERS. All have been successful with the Massachusetts Bar Exam. Also successful was BOB FLYNN of Waltham, '58 day division, now practicing with his father in Waltham and generally found somewhere in the vicinity of Middlesex Registry and Court House. Other successful lawyers from '51 who have attended B.C. Law and who are now practicing are WALTER J. CONNELLY, WALTER CORCORAN in Waltham, WALTER HURLEY with Judge McCarthy at U. S. District Court in Boston, PAUL KING, DICK OATES from Watertown, JACK WHELTON and MIKE WALSH. Quite a lineup! That's not all though. Others lawyers are MOE DOWNEY, Harvard Law and practicing in New Bedford; RUDY SACCO of Pittsfield, JOHN GALLAGHER from Georgetown Law and practicing in District of Columbia. John just married, too. Congrats!

Our most successful office holder would appear to be TOM COSTIN, present Mayor of Lynn with an eye toward the future. Tom doing very well and when last heard from was settling a strike at the Lynn G.E. He may run for statewide office. Best of luck, Tom!

Do we have any other office holders? It would be interesting to know. Let's hear from you on that score and all others, too. Let's get the old grape vine going. See you on Alumni Day and don't forget the FUND!

TOM SMITH has been appointed Athletic Director at Boston Institute and MIKE ROARKE is playing for Louisville, Triple A farm team for Milwaukee. Mike is married to the former Merry Sue Blair of Wichita, Kansas.

Engagements include those of JOE ABBADESSA and Margaret Flint of Somerville. Joe is studying at Suffolk Law; BOB LEVINS and Mary Jane Coyle of Vernon, New York. Bob is a chemist for Bristol Myers at Syracuse; JOHN LaCASCIA to Josephine Bodessa of West Roxbury, and BOB QUINN to Claudina Pyne of Milford.

ATTY. BOB CALLAHAN was married in Norwalk, Connecticut to Miss Dorothy Trudel. He is practicing law there after receiving his degree at Fordham.

Miscellaneous: LEN CODY has been elected as Auditor of the Wellesley Trust Company; met DR. TOM ZIPPOLI at N. E. Deanconess Hospital where he is doing a residency in internal medicine; Tom told me his brother-in-law Al Simonds is a resident Psychologist at the Mass. General Hospital. BOB KINCADE, an SKF drug salesman, and I attended the Laetare Sunday Communion breakfast at the Heights. We were seated with Lex Blood of NET&T, DR. BILL CRONIN, now practicing dentistry in West Roxbury; AL SEXTON, a painting contractor; ROGER CONNOR, who is teaching, and FRED MEAGHER, a general insurance agent.

On a visit to Boston's City Hospital recently, I met DR. KEN GORDON who is specializing in Obstetrics. The physicians in our class deserve a lot of credit. We're out 7 years in June and these fellows are still studying. Think of that the next time you see the doctor's bill. See you on Alumni Day.

From Bridgeport, Conn., comes word that FRANK PELUSO and Barbara Corbo were married on Jan. 31st. . . Frank is practicing law in Stamford and Greenwich and is also part owner of the Night Cap Restaurant in Stamford. . . I would assume that the drinks are on the house if you happen to be passing through. . . In Dover, N. H., KEN FLYNN and Patricia Breslin tied the knot recently. . . Ken is a civilian employee with the Department of the Army. He and Pat will be living in Arlington, Virginia. . . Those about to take the big step include PAUL LOCKWOOD and Jeanne Lussier. . . Jeanne is a graduate of Marrymount Junior College in Arlington, Virginia. . . JIM MULROONEY and Virginia Burke have announced similar plans. . . Virginia is a Regis grad and also studied at N.Y.U. School of Retailing. . . Rounding out the betrothal list is FRANK MONIHAN and Mary Patricia O'Connell of Watertown, Mass. They are looking to an October wedding. . . In matters other than those of the heart I wish to report that JOHN BURKE and yours truly quaffed a few recently here in Washington. . . John is about to take up residence here with the local office of I.B.M. . . By the way John, you looked like a real tourist while viewing the Blossoms down at the basin. . . This corner wishes to announce that the seven year search for FRED BELL is going to be abandoned. . . Tom and REGINA McELROY are now the proud parents of the best looking boy in town. . . Admittedly I am prejudiced in this matter but understandably so. . . MIKE and Claire McCARTHY are expecting their second addition in October. . . The LARRY SULLIVANS are now six in number. . . that takes care of the infield Larry, but any good club has to have a heavy hitting outfield too. . . When next this column is authored by your correspondent will be just another civilian in Beantown. . . I'm not complaining, however. . . See you at the Heights in June. . .

A REMINDER! Friday, June 5 is Alumni Day and our Fifth Anniversary. Hope to see you at the dinner or at least the baseball game with the Cross. And don't forget the Parade of the Classes.

A pair of Belmont expatriates coincidentally chose the month of April to join the ranks of the married. Fellow addicts of the art of putting the ball through the hoop during their days at the Heights, both continued their education at Law School and are now residing far from Belmont. BILL CAREY brought his bride, the former Carol Becker of Washington, D. C. to Chicago where Bill is a Special Assistant to the Attorney General. DAN BURNS brought his bride, the former Mary Cabot of Minneapolis to Bronxville, New York City, where Dan is in private practice. Incidentally, Bill's bachelor party in Washington was like a class reunion with PHIL GRANT, ED STEGEMANN, GEORGE PARSONS, COLIN LIZOTTE and your class correspondent among those in attendance.

BOB KERWIN has also set up house-keeping with his bride, the former Marianne Maguire in a city far from the Heights. Pittsburgh is their choice where Bob is employed as a research chemist at the Mellon Institute.

By contrast, GERRY McCOURT had a Boston wedding for a Brighton bride, the former Mary Liz Murray. They plan to reside about ten minutes from Boston College.

It seems that we have a new champion of the Proud Papa Club. CHARLES MARTEL is living with his wife and four—count them, four—children in Phoenix, Arizona where he is a semiconductor engineer with Motorola. For whatever interest it may be, we note that our champ was a biology major.

DAVE SANFORD should also be entitled to some sort of a prize—he is the father of a daughter and twin sons. Dave is a first lieutenant at Fort Seldon, New York working with the Hercules missile.

FATHER EDWARD KOEHAN recently got his first assignment upon graduation from Saint John's Seminary. He is an assistant at St. John the Baptist Church in Riverside.

PETE VASATURO has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant for summer institute work at De Pauw University. Pete has been teaching general science in the Walpole school system.

During the past few months all of us have received letters from the Alumni Association soliciting our aid in the current fund raising drive. I don't think I have to say too much to most of our classmates. During our years at the "Heights" the class of '57 always did a splendid job in whatever we undertook. Let's pull together now and put our class over the top. If you haven't already mailed your contribution, no matter how large or small it may be, DO IT NOW. Thanks.

LARRY CHISHOLM has recently transferred to the Old Town Corp., Boston, Mass. selling duplicating equipment. TOM JOYCE is now with the FBI in San Francisco, Calif.

Boston Teachers College has awarded Masters Degrees in Education to: JIM DALY, CHARLIE CRISAFULLI, KEITH CASSEY and FRANK DIRKSMEIER. Congratulations.

TOM KELLIHER is a bank examiner working in the New England area for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

JOE BERKELY is now attending B.U. Medical School.

Also attending B.U. is BILL LEARY. Bill is working towards a Masters Degree in education.

PAUL DALY and Barbara Magazu plan to be married August 1st. Paul is a statistician with the Vance Sanders Investment Co., Boston, Mass.

DICK HILL now has two lovely daughters: Patricia and Christine. Dick is still with Crane Co.

PAUL SHEA is the proud father of a son and a daughter: Kathleen Mary, who will be 2 years old in May, and Paul Jr., who was born last December.

For those who might be heading "Capeward" this summer a trip to Nantucket Island will find Ens. ART FLYNN. Art is stationed at the U. S. Naval Facility base on the island and expects to remain there for the rest of his tour of duty.

Since our last publication the engagements of many of our classmates has come to my attention. Among them are RICHARD DUGAS and JOAN LINGARD. Dick is now attending Georgetown School of Dentistry. Joan, also a B.C. grad, Class of '58 is a social worker at the New York Foundling Hospital. They plan to be married in July.

LEO MORRISSEY, recently engaged to Peggy Harney, has transferred to the Boston Office of State Mutual Insurance Co.

JIM TURLEY and Betty Ann Scanlon have chosen June 27th as their wedding date.

Best of luck also to JOE KELLY and Kay Lyons, ED COAKLEY and Maureen Murphy, JACK SLATTERY and Eleanor Callanan on their recent engagements.

Another July wedding will be that of JOHN GORMAN and Mary Philbin.

LT. CHARLES ZIELINSKI and MARIE LUNNEY became engaged recently. Charlie is serving with the Third Marine Division in Okinawa. Marie is a senior at the School of Nursing.

LUCILLE IOVINO, also a member of the Class of '59, became engaged to ANTHONY DIPIETRO. Anthony is now in his second year at the B.C. Law School.

Ens. MIKE DESMOND and Jacquelyn McCluckie recently became engaged. Mike is stationed in Japan.

Heading for the altar in June will be FRED IARROBINO and Barbara Mathieson. Also in June we have Joyce Farley and LT. JOSEPH L. DONOVAN. Joe is presently stationed at McGregor Guided Missile Range, Fort Bliss, Texas.

VIN FALCONE and Margaret A. Breen are also planning nuptials in the near future. Vin is working for his doctors degree at Brandeis and M.I.T.

PAUL MAHONEY and Doris Barbaro plan to be married in September.

JIM HOWLEY, employed by Monsanto Chemical Co., is attending Suffolk Law School nights.

October 10th is the wedding date for Kathleen Condon and PAUL O'LEARY.

DONALD M. FORD and Margeine Di Libero are planning to be married this August. Don is with the Employers Liability Assurance Corp. in Boston. August 29th is the date.

Another August wedding will be that of Ann M. Thomas and JOHN O'BRIEN. John graduated from Holy Cross and received his Master of Arts from B.C. grad. school of history and government. He is now the vice-president of the Lowell H.C. club and a teacher in the Dracut School System.

Being married in July are EDWARD AMARAL and Ellen Cardinal. Ed is attending Georgetown School of Medicine.

Ens. ROBERT L. HILLYARD is stationed at Chase Field, Texas. He has received his white card which makes him a qualified instrument pilot. Bob hopes to get his "wings" in the near future.

DICK MICHAUD, former hockey star at the Heights, is now teaching and coaching hockey at Walpole. Maybe some of you read the results of the U. S. Amateur Hockey championship game between the Brockton Wetzells, of which Dick is a valued player, and Rochester, Minn. at Green Bay, Wisc. In that game Dick played his usual best and aided his team to a triumphant victory.

JOSEPH A. ANGELINI of Fitchburg, a supervisor of mathematics at Teachers College Junior High School, Fitchburg, was awarded a national science foundation grant for further study in the field of mathematics. Joe graduated from Providence College and received his Masters Degree from B.C. Congratulations Joe.

That "sweet" state of matrimony has claimed many from the ranks. JOHN BERRIGAN and Barbara Clifford were wed at Holy Trinity Church, Greenfield recently.

Glad to see MARTY CLANCY back after his trip to the Mid-West. Marty is now a top-notch fund director for Catholic Counseling Service.

BILL FAGAN has chosen Newton Corner as the site for his new coverage office.

Quite a few of the class made a closed retreat at the Trappist Monastery in Spencer during Lent. Included were BOB MULLEN, FRANK FLAHERTY, PAUL O'LEARY, LEO MORRISSEY and GENE SULLIVAN.

CATHERINE McGRATH, B. C. Grad School of Nursing '57 and DOMINIC EMELLO were married last February 7th. Dom is a Sales Eng. for a local firm.

JOE MOYLAN and Barbara Piattoni were also married recently. Joe attended Babson Institute while studying for his Masters Degree.

ANNETTE COLLINS, school of Ed., and VICTOR POPEL were married at Our Lady of Grace Church, Chelsea. Annette is teaching school in Chelsea and Vic is attending Tufts Medical School.

CHARLES ROSE and Mary Ellen Coakley were married in Belmont recently.

ANGELO CELLI and Jacqueline Sawyer were married in May. Angelo is now working for the Plastic Academy Products Corp.

Also married last May were DON McALEER and Ann Teehan.

Living in Medford after their recent marriage are Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT VALWAY. Mrs. Valway is the former Mary Stuto.

TOM McQUILLAN and Janet Carlo were married April 18th. Tom's brother John, B.C. '49 was best man and serving as usher was Dick Mulhall, B.C. '58. Tom is employed by the John Carter Co., Charlestown, Mass.

MARTIN DUNN is attending Tufts Dental School.

To the family of PAUL V. FORD the Class of '57 extends its deepest sympathy. Paul was killed in a jet plane crash while serving his tour of duty in Japan.

Our sympathy is also extended to JOE COTTER on the death of his parents. And to BOB MULLEN on the sudden death of his father.

May I say in closing that although some of our classmates drop us a line now and then, a vast majority are still in the background. Let's hear from a few more of you.

Class officers, and what they're doing: WILLIAM F. O'BRIEN (CBA) is working for Johnson & Johnson in New Jersey, while MYLES D. CASSIDY is married to the former Eileen Sweeney and stationed with the U. S. Marines in California. JAMES M. McCUSKER is, likewise, serving with the Marines in Virginia.

The president from the School of Education, WILLIAM J. DORAN is finishing his Army enlistment at Fort Custer; RITA NOLAN is doing graduate work at the Heights. MARY K. BRYSON has found social welfare work in Waltham a full time vocation.

Of the officers from the School of Nursing, word has it that CATHERINE M. GRIFFIN's career at Boston City Hospital is soon to be complemented by wedding bells. BRENDA P. JOHNSON is teaching in Worcester.

From the Intown School we've learned that JAMES E. MCGOLDRICK is married, has one child, and is presently with the Edison Company. MARGARET M. REIS is teaching in Cambridge. THOMAS QUINN was married in August, and ELEANOR R. LYONS has been advanced in Management with New England Tel. & Tel.

Now that she is married, PATRICIA M. HUGHES (Grad. Nursing) is living in Rochester, N. Y.

Of the A&S graduates, ROBERT DIOZZI is still in Missouri in Uncle Sam's Army, while JAMES QUINN is out of the service and getting used to civilian life.

Marital vows are forthcoming from these A&S graduates: JOHN F. HEALY, GEORGE R. TOBIN, JOHN S. CROSSETTE, JOHN DOYLE, EUGENE NUTILE, DAVID RAFFERTY, and PATRICK J. RIDGE.

Among 257 Second Lieutenants who completed the 30-week officer's basic course at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va., were JOHN BRADY (A&S) and DAVID S. OJERHOLM (A&S).

At the Heights in pursuit of still more degrees are FRANK CORRE (A&S) and JAMES McELHINNEY (A&S).

Your class reporter urges you to send your news, even if it seems inconsequential to you. We are all interested in what concerns each of us.

PAUL DONOVAN has joined the special projects department of Monsanto Chemical Co.'s Research & Engineering Dir. at Everett.

I received word that DICK LYNCH of Portland, Maine, CBA, is serving with the Army at Fort Sam Houston in Texas. He is also studying law at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Texas.

Congratulations go to AL CURTIS, A&S on his recent marriage to Dottie MacLeod. Al is presently going through training at Quantico along with BOOTS CONNELLY, CBA, and TOM CAIL, A&S. TOM MEEHAN is reportedly the mainstay of the Quantico Lacrosse team.

JOE CLANCY A&S and BILL MONAGLE CBA write that they are serving in Korea with old Uncle as Second Lieutenants. Joe writes that while he was in Ft. Benning he came across JOHN IGO, DICK DOYLE, TOM HASSEY and JOE HONAN.

BRAD SMITH, DAN CROWLEY and TOM POWELL, A&S and ED KELLY CBA are presently enrolled in the School of Social Work.

Congratulations on the recent engagement of BILL SHOOK A&S to FAY PINAULT Ed. and BARRY KANE CBA to Elizabeth Moloney.

Also congratulations to JOE GAROFOLI and Janet French on their recent wedding. Joe is another classmate in the service, and he is stationed in Alaska.

Finishing their first year at Loyola of Chicago Dental School are BOB MISIEWCIZ, JACK FOLEY and JOHN BALMFORTH. Also at Loyola is BILLY McGUIRK who is studying in the graduate school of Psychology.

KELLIHER are out at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

A tip of the hat to the members of the class that attended the Laetare Sunday. The class total was twice that of what was expected.

Congratulations to ED O'CONNELL on his recent engagement and to FRED LONG on his recent marriage to MARY JOHNSON.

DON SEAGER, after completing a successful football season, also completed the 30 week officers' basic course at the Marine Corps School, Quantico.

All class duffers are reminded that on June 1, the first annual B.C. Alumni Golf tournament will be held at Commonwealth Country Club.

Congratulations to Ed and MARY KELLY on the recent addition to their family.

Since my last article, I received letters from some of our classmates, to these classmates, many thanks for your interest and information, and I hope this continues in the future.

Hope to see all classmates out at B.C. on June 5, Alumni Day.

EDWARD J. POWERS is a teaching assistant in the economics department at the University of Kansas and he is working on his Master's degree.

Law School

JOSEPH F. McCARTHY
11 Hardwick St., Brighton

The Alumni of the Law School will be pleased to learn of the elevation of three of their members to the judiciary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts by appointment of Governor Foster Furcolo.

JUDGE ROBERT SULLIVAN, Class of 1941.

The first Boston College Law School alumnus to be named to the Superior Court in Massachusetts is Judge Robert Sullivan of Brookline. Judge Sullivan is a native of Boston and was graduated from the Boston Latin School and Harvard College. He received the LL.B. degree from Boston College Law School in 1941 and was admitted to the Bar in the same year. He served with the Rainbow Division in the Army during World War II and was awarded the bronze star for heroism during the attack on Germany's Siegfried Line.

JUDGE THEODORE A. GLYNN, JR., Class of 1940

Judge Glynn took his oath of office in March as Associate Justice of the Municipal Court of the City of Boston. Judge Glynn is a life-long resident of Boston and received his preparatory education at the Roxbury Memorial High School. He was graduated from Boston College with the A.B. degree in 1937, and from the Law School with the LL.B. degree in 1940. Many of the older Alumni will remember Theodore A. Glynn, Sr., who for many years served as Clerk of the Roxbury District Court. Judge Glynn since his admission to the Bar in 1940 has been an active trial lawyer in the City of Boston, except for three years of service with the Navy during World War II in the Pacific area.

JUDGE HENRY P. CROWLEY, Class of 1952

Judge Crowley was graduated from the Law School in 1952 after having completed his studies at Brookline High School and Boston University. In January, 1959, he was appointed to the bench as Special Justice of the Municipal Court of Brookline. While attending Law School, Judge Crowley served on the Brookline police force and since his graduation he has practiced law with the office of Crowley and Elliott. He has served as counsel for the Brookline Redevelopment Authority and legislative counsel for the Massachusetts Savings Bank Life Insurance Council. During World War II, Judge Crowley served as a special Army intelligence agent in Austria.

Two presidents, John S. Dickey of Dartmouth and Fr. Walsh accept boutonnieres prior to the Bill Cunningham dinner.

The students and Faculty of the Law School join with the Alumni in extending our best wishes for long and fruitful service in the administration of justice to these three young judges.

LOUIS A. VACHON, '40, was recently elected vice president of the Keystone Company of Boston. Mr. Vachon is located in the Los Angeles office of the company.

WILLIAM J. KIRK, '42, has been elected president of the investment counsel firm of John P. Chase, Inc., of Boston, Massachusetts and Geneva, Switzerland.

JOHN H. FITZGERALD, '50, was recently installed as president of the Chelsea-Revere Bar Association.

WILLIAM J. DOOLEY, '52, was recently selected from a large field of able candidates for the position as Associate General Counsel for the Dewey and Almy Chemical Company, Cambridge, Mass.

WILLIAM F. HENNESSEY, '52, recently moved to new offices for the firm of Brumbach & Hennessey at Suite 1407, Alaska Building, Seattle 4, Washington.

JULIAN J. D'AGOSTINE, '53, announces the opening of his new office at 560 Massachusetts Avenue, West Acton, Massachusetts.

WILLIAM J. O'BRIEN, JR., '54, after two years with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C., has been retained as attorney for the American Trucking Association, Inc., of Washington, D. C.

RICHARD D. MAHONEY, '57, was recently appointed to the staff of the Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

FRANCIS J. PAVETTI, '59, who completed the requirements for the LL.B. degree in January, 1959, was successful in the December Bar Examination for the State of Connecticut. He was formally admitted to practice in Connecticut on February 10, 1959.

In the fall Mr. Pavetti will succeed John J. Walsh, '58, as Clerk to Judge J. Joseph Smith of the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut.

John Walsh upon completing his clerkship with Judge Smith will accept a very attractive offer from the Wall Street firm of Cadwalder, Wickersham and Taft, New York City.

For our Alumni in Massachusetts who may be struggling through the intricacies of the new Uniform Commercial Code you may find help in some areas from the research and writing of Professor William E. Hogan, Jr., of the Class of 1952. In addition to his articles in the ANNUAL SURVEY OF MASSACHUSETTS LAW, which we assume our Alumni purchase, Professor Hogan has had published the following:

1. A SURVEY OF STATE RETAIL INSTALLMENT SALES LEGISLATION — Cornell Law Quarterly, XLIV (1958), 38-73
2. REVISED MASSACHUSETTS ANNOTATIONS TO ARTICLE 2: SALES — Annotated Laws of Massachusetts, Special Supplement, 1958 With R. Braucher of Harvard Law School.
3. THE MARRIAGE OF SALES TO CHATTEL SECURITY IN THE UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE, Boston University Law Review, XXXVIII (1958), 571-599.

VICTOR W. DAHAR, '58, has announced the opening of his law office at 913 Elm Street, Manchester, New Hampshire.

The Alumni of the Law School wish to express publicly to Attorney Daniel G. Holland of the Class of 1944 their sincere appreciation for the efficient and completely satisfactory job he did in his role as Chairman of the Thirtieth Anniversary banquet held March 21, 1959 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel.

Among Alumni who made some sacrifice to attend in view of the distance required for travel to Boston were: from Chicago, Illinois, FATHER WILLIAM J. KENEALY, S.J., former Dean; from New York, HARVEY TITUS, WILLIAM BENNETT, ROBERT V. O'HARA, FRANK AMABILE, JOSEPH ROGERS; from New Hampshire, WILLIAM TRIBBLE, ALEXANDER KALINSKI, AUGUSTINE J. McDONOUGH, ROBERT B. WELTS, LUCILLE KOZLOWSKI, VICTOR DAHAR; from Connecticut, Judge DOMINIC A. DePONTE, PETER ZACCAGNINO; from Rhode Island, JOSEPH MACIOCI, FRED FAERBER; from Western Massachusetts, J. NORMAN O'CONNOR, DAVID J. SULLIVAN, GEORGE B. CRANE, JOHN M. SULLIVAN, DAVID F. KEEFE, ROBERT J. DONELAN.

JOHN M. BYRNE, '57, has been made a partner in the enlarged firm which will be known as Sherman, Respass, Krause and Byrne, 650 Main Street, Hartford, Connecticut.

JAMES E. FLANNERY, '41, has been appointed claims manager of the Rhode Island Mutual Insurance Company of Providence.

AMOS E. WASGATT, JR., '49, associate town counsel of Leicester, Massachusetts has become associated with Edward J. McCabe and Henry C. Walker in the firm which will be known as McCabe, Walker and Wasgatt, Commerce Building, Worcester, Massachusetts.

JOHN CAIN, '50, has formed a law partnership with Donald E. O'Brien and has opened new offices at 158 Bank Street, Burlington, Vermont.

CORNELIUS F. MURPHY, JR., '57, is now associated in general practice with the office of Cornelius C. Moore, 179 Thames Street, Newport, Rhode Island.
